WALTON CHARGES DEFEAT IS 'ILLEGAL'

GUARD DIES AS 'LIFERS' MUTINY

Hundreds of Citizens Arming at Eddyville to Stop Desperadoes' Escape

EDDYVILLE, Ky., Oct. 3.—Hodge Cunningham, guard at the state penitentiary here, was killed and three other guards wounded today in a battle with convicts armed with automatic pistols and barricaded in prison buildings.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon Monte ("Tex") Walters, Lawrence Griffith and Henry Ferland, all "lifers," were still in possession of the dining-room and kitchen of the institution.

Send Gas Guns

Four gas guns, equipment of the Louisville riot squad, left that city at noon to be used in subduing the mutiny and the government engineers at Cumberland river lock and dam here are constructing armor plate shields to protect guards in their efforts to rush the convicts' stronghold.

Hundreds of citizens armed with shot-guns, rifles and pistols are surrounding the prison walls. All other convicts have been locked in their cells.

Warden John M. Chilton said he would cope with the situation and is confident that the barricaded men will soon surrender or be captured.

Guards V. B. Mattingly and Will Gillihan, wounded in the legs, were rescued from the prison yard during an exchange of shots between guards and the mutineers and carried to a hospital under fire.

Walters, who is charged with being the leader of the outbreak, was shot from a ladder on the penitentiary wall eight months ago during a previous attempted dash for liberty. It is thought his wife smuggled the weapons into the prison for today's outbreak.

The gas guns from the Louisville police department are expected here at 5:30 this evening in time for use before darkness.

Daugherty's Ruling Hits Branch Banks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—National banks are forbidden to engage in any banking functions beyond the limits of the city in which they are located, under a ruling just handed down by Attorney General Daugherty, it was announced today by Camptroller of the Currency Dawes.

Attorney General Daugherty held that all banks were prohibited by law from engaging in branch bank operations.

The issue ultimately will be decided by the United States supreme court despite Daugherty's ruling, as the First National Bank of St. Louis has an appeal now pending before the highest tribunal.

Dope, Rob and Put Woman in Ditch 'to Die'

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Chloroformed by two bandits who robbed her of two diamond rings and $15 cash, Mrs. E. E. Gool, of Maywood, was then brutally attacked by the pair and left to die in a water filled ditch nearby.

News of the attack did not reach the sheriff's office until today when Mrs. Gool, partly recovered, was able to give a meager account of her experience. She was rescued from the ditch by two men who were passing and heard her groans.

Mrs. Gool is said to have left her home early in the evening to attend a night school at Huntington Park. After attending school she started home shortly after 9 o'clock by electric car which she left in Maywood. Before she reached her home two men pounced upon her from the shrubbery and held a cloth saturated with chloroform over her nose. The woman's face was covered with burns today.

Search for 'Trixie' in Rancher's Murder

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Deputy sheriffs today hunted a woman known only as "Trixie" and described as being red-headed, bobbed hair, believed to have been with Rosario Meciche, citrus rancher, whose dead and horribly mutilated body was found yesterday in Manchester Heights, at the time of the murder and now possibly a captive of the slayers.

Psychologist Held on Embezzling Charge

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Dr. W. R. Price, head of a school of "Christian Applied Psychology," was scheduled to be arraigned today on a charge of embezzling $36,000, following his arrest last night while he addressed some fifty or more of his disciples at his home and school. Bail has been fixed at $20,000 and Dr. Price spent the night in jail.

Dr. Price's arrest was based on the specific complaint of Miss Edith Campbell that she had been victimized of $500 to be used, with other sums, to buy the Irvine ranch and establish a school or college of the doctor's cult there.

TRY WOMAN FOR MURDER

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 3.—Mrs. Lelia Crandall went on trial today for the alleged murder of W. E. Remington, former member of the Arizona legislature, who was shot through the heart May 22. Mrs. Crandall attempted suicide at the time.

'SLICKER' TO PEN

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Jesse Taylor, notorious "slicker" bank bandit, was scheduled to arrive at Folsom prison today to serve a life sentence on a robbery charge.

KELS BARES STORY OF MURDER

Shot Stranger in Back With Revolver and Burned Car to Collect Insurance

EUREKA, Oct. 3.—Alex A. Kels, wealthy cattleman, officially "dead," was today en route back to Lodi to face a charge of murdering an unknown man who was buried in his stead.

Dramatically weakening early today, Kels, according to Sheriff William J. Riecks of Stockton, confessed having killed an itinerant worker, carried his body about for hours in the rear of his automobile and then burned it in a haystack.

"Perfect Stranger"

"I don't know who it was I killed," Sheriff Riecks quoted Kels as telling him. "He was a perfect stranger to me. I got him at Lodi for the purpose. I have always paid my bills and come clean, and I will come clean now. You fellows have had it all figured out pretty well.

"I was heavily insured and I thought that was the best way to clean up. I figured my wife would get the insurance and that I would never see her again. I figured she would get over the shock and be comfortably fixed, and I planned to go to Mexico.

Shot Him In Back

"The man I killed was a perfect stranger to me. I took him over to my ranch from Lodi and made a pretense that wind mills were out of order and got him out of the car. Then I shot him in the back with a .32 calibre revolver.

"He groaned, but didn't fall, and I shot again. Thinking that he might still be alive I got a

Recognize Russia, Suspend Immigration Five Years, Among Big Issues

By JAMES S. SHEEHY
For International News Service

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 3.—The recognition of Russia is urged, the fascisti movement is denounced, congress is called upon to suspend immigration for five years, organized labor is again urged to form a separate political party and Governor Richardson of California is asked to pardon Thomas J. Mooney, serving a term at San Quentin, in a series of resolutions introduced before the American Federation of Labor convention today.

A total of 95 resolutions have been introduced, with a few more expected, although the rules must be suspended hereafter and unanimous consent given to introduce further resolutions.

The Butte delegaion, led by William Dunne, calls upon the A. F. of L. to recognize Russia.

After calling for the suspension of the immigration law for a five-year period, the resolution introduced by Otto R. Hartwig of the Oregon State Federation of Labor, asks that a general naturalization day be set for those who are to become citizens. Those who are not fit for citizenship would be deported under the provisions of the resolution.

The Chicago Federation of Labor, following the lead of the Minnesota delegation, urges the formation of a "political party of our own, based upon trade unions, with farmers and other organizations in harmony with organized labor."

The building trades convention has referred to the federation convention its resolution urging that action be taken to prevent the industrial committee of San Francisco in its alleged attempts to keep the building trades mechanics and the employers in the city apart, so the "committee can foster and advance the open shop movement in San Francisco."

PRICE FIXING FEDERATION PLANNED

Economic Guarantee Project of Magnus Johnson Wins Farmers' Support

By WM. K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—A nation-wide federation of farmers, fixing their own prices on farm products, loomed today as agriculture's "self-proposed guarantee against future economic losses."

The movement, launched by Senator Magnus Johnson, farmer-laborite of Minnesota, has the support of officials of numerous national farm organizations.

Although President Coolidge has pledged governmental aid to wheat belt farmers in meeting the present wave of depression, the administration's plan rests primarily on the creation by the farmers of co-operative marketing societies. With the remedy placed squarely upon the farmers' shoulders, agriculture leaders are planning a gigantic marketing organization to be perfected next year, which will be a permanent safeguard against future farm depression.

Provide Finances

The Coolidge plan, requiring organization of co-operative marketing groups in every agricultural state, would be supported by government credits. A spokesman for the president explained that local credits would be established with $60,000 capital by the last congress. Local bankers would be urged to help in financing crop movements with a promise of support from the federal reserve system.

In the marketing of surplus crops, the war finance corporation has authority to extend credits to foreign nations which would purchase wheat here, paying the farmers cash and taking "I. O. U.'s" from the debtor nations. Whether this policy will be followed by the corporation has not yet been revealed by White House spokesmen.

Future Guarantee

While the Coolidge proposal would yield some immediate relief to wheat farmers, the plan of Magnus Johnson would furnish an economic guarantee to agriculture for the future. The Johnson plan, launched by the senator in his home state, has spread to North Dakota and South Dakota and the movement is reported to be gaining headway in Montana. It is now called the "producers' alliance."

"If I get the farmers organized in Montana, North and South Dakota, as well as they are now organized in Minnesota, we will

Coolidge Sends Message to Meeting of Western Tariff Association at Denver

DENVER, Oct. 3.—Declaring that there was "an obvious necessity for maintaining a proper measure of preparation to American industry in the face of chaotic industrial conditions following the war," President Calvin Coolidge today sent a message of greeting to the Western Tariff Association, holding its first session in this city.

The president's message follows:

"My greetings and sincerest good wishes to the Western Tariff association at the opening of its conference. I have been much pleased to learn of the fine prospect for a representative gathering and the helpful consideration of the subjects that may come before it.

Sees Broader Views

"I wish to extend to those who will be gathered, the assurance of my most sympathetic interest in the vigorous effort they are putting forth to bring about a broad and thorough understanding of the problems involved in the tariff question as it is presented to the country at this time.

"I think it can fairly be said that there never has been a period in our country's history when so little of sectional interest entered into the consideration of this question. The obvious necessity for maintaining a proper measure of protection to American industry and production in the face of chaotic industrial conditions following the war has unquestionably brought us nearer to a national solidarity on this issue."

Telegraph Company Officers Promise Improvement at Local Office

Improvement in the telegraph service through the Glendale office of the Western Union Telegraph Company has been promised by W. R. Williams, city superintendent, in a conference with Vice-President W. E. Hewitt and Secretary E. F. Sanders of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, following a request that some action be taken to expedite the handling of local messages.

In a letter to the Chamber of Commerce Mr. Williams explained that the principal difficulty in the improvement of the service here lies in the inability of the company to secure a staff that can be regarded as permanent, declaring that the labor turnover is one of the most difficult problems

OKLAHOMA'S ELECTION TO COURT

Governor's Friends Point Out Fact That Only Klan Strength Was Shown

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
For International News Service

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 3.—Governor J. C. Walton today instituted legal action to have the courts declare yesterday's election illegal.

An injunction was filed in his behalf enjoining the state election board from certifying the result of the election. Unofficial returns at 11 a. m. from 1922 precincts of the 2873 in the state piled up a vote of 203,231 for initiative petition No. 79, which would permit the legislature to convene on its own call as an impeaching body, and 55,946 against. This was a ratio of less than 4 to 1.

Point to Silent Vote

The election board was temporarily restrained from certifying the election, which the governor contended was a "pretended election," and not legal. October 9 was set as the date for hearing of the petition.

Friends of Governor Walton today called attention to "the silent vote" which was not recorded in yesterday's election figures.

Not more than 350,000 voted, they asserted. They pointed out that when Walton was elected last November more than 500,000 votes were cast. The governor's majority was 49,000 then.

The 150,000 who did not vote yesterday were for the governor, they said, as were the thousands who voted "no" on "79."

The Ku Klux Klan vote turned out practically en masse.

One significant feature was the fact that practically no negroes voted.

Packers' Two Months' Vacation Trip Ends

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen C. Packer and daughter, Miss Doris, of 362 West Riverdale drive, are being greeted by their Glendale friends upon their return from a two months' trip east. The Packers arrived in Glendale Monday and have many interesting accounts to give of their trip, which was recorded during their absence in the columns of The Glendale Evening News.

They went east by way of the Canadian Rockies, and visited their old home in Michigan, Chicago and New York. Later they visited Washington, D. C., Chattanooga, Tenn., New Orleans and San Antonio, Texas.

Visits to historical places of interest, renewal of old friendships and visits with relatives were features of their trip.

While in New York City Mr. Packer and his daughter attended the Dempsey-Firpo fight.

They report ideal climatic conditions except in the southern states, where they found it pretty warm.

Miracle Prevents Fatality When Car Turns Gyroscope

A MIRACLE is believed to have occurred about 7:40 o'clock last night at the intersection of California and Central avenue when an automobile was gyroscoped in the air five feet, turned a somersault and came down on its right side—and none of its five occupants were seriously injured.

Passengers in this machine, which was a heavy touring car, were Mr. and Mrs. F. N. Van Wormer of 314½ East Stocker street, Mrs. B. S. Park of 309 West California avenue and Irvin Carver of 378 West California avenue. They were coming east on California avenue to turn north on Central avenue to the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse. The machine is reported to have been traveling upwards of thirty miles an hour.

James Grant of 2740 West Colorado street, Eagle Rock, was the driver of the sedan which was involved in the collision. This was going north on Central at a rate of speed which was estimated by an eye witness to be nearly forty miles per hour. His car was not damaged beyond a slight dent in its bumper.

The touring car was towed to a garage and is regarded as almost a total wreck. Its body was badly demolished.

Mrs. K. C. Graves of 321 West Stocker street was driving north on Central avenue and observed the collision. That no one was seriously injured was an act of providence, in her opinion.

Mrs. F. N. Van Wormer was taken to the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, where bruises were treated. This afternoon she is expected to return to her home.

A warrant for Mr. Grant's arrest on a charge of reckless driving was sworn out this morning by Mr. Van Wormer before Judge F. H. Lowe. He was arrested and deposited $150 bail for his appearance in court at 10 a. m. October 10.

Club Leader at Eagle Rock Victim of Character Assassin

"I AM an innocent woman, unjustly convicted."

In those simple words Mrs. F. M. Runge, of 5064 Floristan avenue, Eagle Rock, member of practically every social and civic activity in the community, refutes her conviction of shop-lifting.

Mrs. Runge, who pleaded guilty Monday afternoon, October 1, before Judge James Pope, was fined $150 and spent Monday night in jail, to be released next morning on payment by her husband of the fine, declares that she now regrets confession of guilt.

"I had but little time to reflect on which was the better plan, and when my case was called I walked boldly forward and pleaded guilty," she explained in a special interview granted a representative of The Glendale Evening News this morning. "I believed that was the better way out.

"After spending a night in jail, however, I came to the conclusion I had done wrong in pleading guilty and felt I could never again face my friends in Eagle Rock. Imagine my surprise, then, on reaching home, to be met by Mrs. A. G. Reily, Mrs. M. T. Lee and Mrs. C. W. Young, all executive officers of the Women's Twentieth Century club, who offered messages of sympathy and expressed complete belief in my innocence.

"The reason I pleaded guilty was because to tell the truth would have been to reveal to the world a family skeleton in our closet, a woman relative with whom I have been on exceedingly unfriendly terms for some time. I am satisfied the whole thing was a carefully-arranged plot to besmirch my character."

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Crane and daughter Aileen of 1627 West Gardena avenue, and Mrs. Crane's father, John Weil and daughter Mrs. Helen Jensen enjoyed a delightful motor trip to Santa Barbara on Sunday. En route there they took luncheon at Ventura.

Mr. and Mrs. N. J. Haynes of 472 Patterson avenue returned to Glendale Tuesday after a two months' tour throughout the east and south. They report a splendid trip, although they admit there is no place like Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. Haynes brought as their house-guest Mr. Haynes' niece, Miss Elizabeth Church of Pulaski, Tennessee.

Tuesday Afternoon club members were happy yesterday to greet Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson of 246 North Orange street, junior past president, who has sufficiently recovered from her recent accident to be about on crutches. Mrs. Hutchinson was painfully injured several weeks ago when she was struck by an automobile as she was coming out of the Hollywood Bowl.

Mrs. E. J. Martin and three daughters who have been visiting for several weeks at the home of Mrs. Martin's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. McKee of 130 West Chestnut street, left yesterday en route to their home in Covington, Ind., upon receiving word of the serious illness of Mrs. Martin's daughter, Mrs. Bodine. On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brown and family of Santa Ana were the dinner guests at the E. S. McKee home.

Friends of Mrs. J. T. Crampton of 325 Burchett street, who has been in poor health for several weeks, will be glad to learn that she is improving rapidly. Mrs. Crampton is a director of the Tuesday Afternoon club, and it was regretted that she was not able to attend the club meeting yesterday. Mrs. Crampton states that her daughter Miss Grace, who is traveling in the east, writes of a delightful vacation trip. She has visited in Canada, New York and Chicago. At present she is in Kansas City and will go to Dallas, Texas from there, returning home late this month.

Farewell Gift

Mrs. Maude Cunningham, class teacher of the J. O. C. class of the First Methodist church, was the honor guest at the meeting held last night in the church parlors when the members of the class entertained with a farewell party. Mrs. Cunningham has been class teacher for the past year and recently tendered her resignation as she is moving to Los Angeles to make her home. She was presented with a string of pearls by the president, Mrs. Rehberg, as a gift from the class.

During the business session officers for the coming year were installed by Rev. Charles Norton. The re-elected president, Mrs. Lydia Rehberg, also installed Rev. Norton as associate teacher, an honor he has held for several years and also extended to him an invitation from the national president, Miss Florence McPhee, to attend the National Convention banquet of the J. O. C., which will be held in Los Angeles at the First M. E. church on October 20. This is an unusual invitation as he is the only man invited to this affair.

Following the business session, the following program was presented: Piano solo by Mrs. Ella Taylor; pianologue by Mrs. Lydia Rehberg, accompanied by Mrs. Ella Taylor; quartet, Mesdames Pearl Bolton, Agusta Woodside, Martha Warren, Ella Taylor; piano solo, by Mrs. Norma Coleman; black face stunt by Mrs. Katherine Stahl and Mrs. Mae Knox.

At the close of the program, refreshments were served in the social hall.

Officials Visit

The feature of the Carnation Rebekah meeting last night was the official visit of Mrs. Rosella Strother, district deputy president; Mrs. Loretta Schwitters, district deputy marshal, and other members of the official staff. As a compliment to these two popular officers, Mrs. Strother was presented with a fruit bowl and Mrs. Schwitters received a set of sherbet glasses.

During the lodge meeting Mesdames Olisher and Turk were received by transfer.

Later a banquet was enjoyed, the tables being arranged to form the letters F, L and T, standing for friendship, love and truth.

Dancing followed.

At the meeting last night a long-distance call was received from Arbor Vitae lodge in Los Angeles, inviting the Glendale Rebekahs to their meeting next Tuesday night. The Carnation lodge members are to meet at the hall on West Broadway at 7 o'clock and after an hour's practice of the drill team, the lodge members will go to Los Angeles. Machines will be furnished for those having no means of transportation.

Philathea Class

Members of the Philathea class of the First Methodist church held their regular busineess meeting last night at the home of Mrs. Gladys Keller, 757 Glenada avenue, Montrose.

A cafeteria dinner was served at 7 o'clock, which was followed by the regular business session, with the president, Miss Lois Percey, in charge. At this time Miss Mabel Cunningham tendered her resignation as treasurer, inasmuch as she and her parents are now residents of Los Angeles, and planning on affiliating with a Los Angeles church. Miss Alice Jernegan also resigned as secretary on account of being unable to attend class meetings this winter. A nominating committee was therefore appointed to secure members to fill these vacancies, consisting of the following members: Misses Lois Percey, Mary Rich and Marie Oliver.

Plans were made for a fancy costume Halloween party, which will be in the nature of a progressive party. Further announcement of the details for this affair will be made at a later date.

DEATHS---FUNERALS

J. B. WHITTAKER

The body of J. B. Whittaker, well known Glendale resident of 407 West Harvard street, who died Monday, October 1, 1923, in Milwaukee, Wis., is being brought by Mrs. Whittaker to Glendale for funeral services at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial park. According to information from the Jewel City Undertaking company Unity Lodge, No. 368, F. and A. M., will be in charge of the service and Mr. Whittaker's body will be placed in a crypt in the mausoleum.

Word of Mr. Whittaker's death came as a great shock to his many Glendale friends. He left Glendale two weeks ago on a business trip that would take him through Mexico and back into the United States and up into Wisconsin. Reports state that while he was in Mexico he became poisoned by food, and while on the train en route to Milwaukee, he was taken dangerously ill and was in a serious condition upon reaching his destination.

Mrs. Whittaker was informed of his serious condition late last week and left immediately for Milwaukee but her husband's death occurred before her arrival. She is now returning to Glendale with his body and will arrive late this week.

The Whittakers came to Glendale four years ago and Mr. Whittaker has invested heavily in Glendale real estate. He was associated in business with Arthur Campbell, realtor, of 110-A East Broadway, and also with the Golden State Building and Loan association.

Surviving him are his wife, Margaret Whittaker, two daughters, Misses Alice and Irene, and a son, Fred.

Mr. Whittaker was a Mason and Knights Templar and Unity Lodge, No. 368, F. and A. M. of Glendale will conduct his funeral services.

MRS. BESSIE GRANT M'KEE

Mrs. Bessie Grant McKee died last night, Tuesday, October 2, 1923, at her home at 415 North Kenwood street at the age of 78 years.

Born in Brigden, Ontario, Canada, Mrs. McKee came to Glendale twelve years ago to make her home.

She is survived by two stepdaughters, Mrs. S. S. Neighbors of Eagle Rock, and Mrs. Gordon Brown of Canada; a step-son John McKee of Mexico, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred F. Brown and family.

Funeral services are to be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park, where interment will take place. Rev. Eugene Haines of Eagle Rock will officiate. The Jewel City Undertaking company is in charge.

DR. J. EDMOND CALDWELL

Dr. Joseph Edmond Caldwell died early this morning, Wednesday, October 3, 1923, at his home at 1119½ East Broadway.

The deceased was born in 1855, was a graduate of the medical school of the University of Iowa and had practiced medicine the greater part of his life. Poor health forced him to give up his practice.

Dr. Caldwell and his wife and daughter had lived in Glendale for two years.

He is survived by his wife, Delfa Jane Caldwell, a daughter, Mabel, and two sons, Arthur Caldwell of Ashville, N. C., and Charles B. Caldwell of Nashville, Tenn.

Mrs. Caldwell and her daughter moved today from their home on East Broadway to 1146 East California avenue.

The Jewel City Undertaking company is in charge of the funeral arrangements.

MRS. EMMA J. MILLER

Mrs. Emma J. Miller died today, Wednesday, October 3, 1923 at the family home, 303 North Central avenue.

The Millers came to Glendale four years ago from Detroit, Mich.

Mrs. Miller is survived by her husband, Charles D. Millre, and one son, M. H. Miller of Claremont.

Funeral services are to be held at 10 o'clock Thursday morning in the chapel of the Jewel City Undertaking company and interment will take place in Detroit, Mich.

Burbank Man Injured When Car Hits Buggy

Antonio Torry of Burbank received bruises but escaped serious injury when the left hind wheel of the buggy in which he was riding about 3:40 yesterday afternoon was struck by an automobile.

"I was coming down Verdugo road by the city reservoir," reported Clyde Cook of 1008 South Mariposa street. "I started to pass the buggy but saw I wouldn't have time so pulled in behind him. I was going, I should judge, thirty-five miles per hour. I couldn't stop so tried to turn out."

Mr. Torry was taken to the Glendale Research Hospital but left a short time later for his home.

Among all seven-passenger models in this field the Nash Six touring car easily holds foremost place.

The proof is plain and unmistakable. An hour's inspection and an hour on the road will convince you beyond argument.

Just look at its size—a full 127-inch wheelbase. That's several inches more than others offer.

And then see how roomy it is. Plenty of seat space and generous leg room. And that's what you want in a car for seven people.

Note how strong and substantial every unit is. Nash puts more steel and strength into every part.

Observe the thoughtful refinement in steering and transmission mechanism that adds so greatly to ease of control and gear-shifting.

This is the car Nash has priced down to $1390. Just bear that price in mind as you check over all the expensive equipment and new features.

LA CRESCENTA

SCHOOL FACULTY WILL BE GUESTS

P.-T. A. Plans Reception for Teachers in Auditorium Saturday Night

The Parent-Teacher association and parents of all children in this district will be hosts to the teachers of the schools at a reception tendered the faculty, on Saturday night, October 6.

The school auditorium, where the reception is to be held will be artistically decorated by a committee appointed by Mrs. Angier and headed by Mrs. Craig. Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Potts and her committee. The program is under the direction of Mrs. Van Duesen and a committee.

Out of courtesy to the teachers who have charge of the children the major part of the time, this affair will be for adults only, and later in the school year a party will be given for the boys and girls of the school. All parents are cordially invited to be present.

Answer Fire Alarm

The fire department answered an alarm this morning, to find a brush fire had started at the side of the road on West Honolulu. Fire Chief Young thought a careless autoist had thrown a match out in the dry grass. It took a matter of almost an hour to subdue the conflagration.

The library report for the month of the Los Angeles County Free Library, La Crescenta branch, is as follows: Adult books loaned, 282; junior fiction, 150; 79 nonfiction, and 152 magazines, making in all a total of 663.

Raise Christmas Fund

The Girl Scouts are in the field to raise money for their Christmas charity fund, and will do so by having a Halloween masquerade party on Saturday evening, October 27, in the school house auditorium. Everyone is requested to wear costumes that will add to the merriment of the occasion. Games of all kinds will be played, and old-fashioned Virginia reels and quadrilles will be enjoyed by the guests.

Admission will be 25 cents each, and 5 cents will be charged for the side-shows, apple bobbing contests, etc., to be held behind the scenes on the stage. There will also be a witch's cauldren, where one may purchase their fortunes for 5 cents, and a gypsy will foretell the future for the curious ones for 10 cents.

This party is for a good cause, and will also serve to promote a social spirit amongst the older residents and the newcomers, and all are urged to attend. Forget trouble for the evening, put on a costume and be a youngster with the youngsters. Refreshments will also be served and community singing will be enjoyed.

If any property owner has any suggestions to make relative to the welfare of the valley, he is urged to attend the Improvement association meeting tomorrow, Thursday, evening, at the school house, and present his ideas.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Hansen entertained a party of friends at their Piedmont avenue home last evening. Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Hicks, Mrs. Rose, Mr. and Mrs. Erkson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Swain of La Crescenta; Mrs. Harcourt, Mrs. Alma Austen and Mr. Millet of Los Angeles. Mrs. Harcourt sang several songs and Mrs. Erkson accompanied her on the violin. The guests toasted marshmallows at the open fire, after which a delicious supper was served.

West Montrose avenue is being dragged and graded for the extension of the Glendale & Montrose car line. When this extension is completed the company will serve the residents of Honolulu Acres and the Warner addition on Pennsylvania avenue.

Kels Tells Story of Killing Strange Man

heavy iron and hit him over the head a couple of times. Then I put him in the car and tucked the lap robe over him and drove around for several hours. I went to Galt and visited a service station and bought a supply of gasoline. Then I went back to the ranch and, after dark, I drove to the Lang ranch, about fifteen miles away."

It was there that the body and machine were burned. Kels, the sheriff said, told how he placed the body and the car against a haystack and in the darkness piled hay around it. He used a candle to start the fire, timing it, he said so he would have opportunity to escape.

Kels told the sheriff he walked to Sacramento and there began his wanderings which ended in his arrest here. He said he came to San Francisco, then went to Los Angeles and to San Antonio, Texas. From there he returned to Nevada. It was in Reno that he was recognized and his trail taken up by officers. From Reno he came to San Francisco and then went northward to Eureka, hoping to hide himself in the Humboldt lumber camps.

CABINET CHIEFS GREET DAIRYMEN

Milk Becomes Staple Item In World Trade, Says Farming Expert

By H. K. REYNOLDS
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Secretary of State Hughes formally opened the world's dairy congress today with an address of welcome to more than a thousand delegates from the United States and forty foreign countries. Addresses were also delivered at the opening session by Secretary of Commerce Hoover, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace and H. E. Van Norman, president of the congress.

Milk and dairy products have now become an important factor in international trade through the employment of modern refrigerating and transportation facilities, Dr. H. C. Taylor, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, United States Department of Agriculture, declared today in an address before the second session of the World's Dairy Congress.

Taylor predicted that international trading in milk products will in course of time replace to a degree the national and local economy systems of seasonal storage.

World Trade Possible

He said:

"Dairy production has now become thoroughly established in the northern and southern hemispheres, and as a consequence mutually advantageous seasonal trading between countries is now a possibility, to replace to a degree the system of seasonal storage that grows out of a local or national economy system.

"More than 20 billion pounds of milk were required during the past year to produce the milk products that entered into world trade, as against 5 billion pounds some few years ago.

"Trade in dairy products between nations may be checked or hindered by several factors, such as protective tariffs, successful imitation of foreign varieties and effective systems of cold storage of domestic supplies to carry the surplus from seasons of heavy production to seasons of light production."

Better Facilities

J. A. Ruddick, Dominion of Canada Dairy and Cold Storage commissioner, addressing the session, said that the advent of improved refrigeration and transportation methods, together with the installation of refrigerated storage houses, has extended international trade in dairy products to markets previously limited by time and distance.

Cesare Longobardi, official delegate of the International Institue of Agriculture, Rome, Italy, recommended at the afternoon session that organized statistical data on milk production be compiled by each country on the basis of direct annual censuses.

Filipino Voters Back Quezon's Candidate

MANILA, Oct. 3.—Complete returns from Manila and partial returns from the provinces today indicated that Manuel Quezon's candidate, Senor Fernandez, defeated Senor Sumulong, democratic candidate, in the fourth senatorial district election yesterday.

With one or two exceptions the election was carried out peacefully. Miguel Consunji, democratic leader in the municipality of Samal, in Batan province, fired six shots into the body of Collectivista leader, Marciano Rodil when the parades of the two contending factions met at midnight. Rodil was brought to Manila, where his injuries were pronounced probably fatal.

FIND SLAIN MAN

PITTSBURG, Oct. 3. — The headless body of a small built man was found this afternoon in a shed used as a girl's dressing room at one of the municipal swimming pools, along the Monongahela river.

STUDENT LEADERS WILL HOLD MEET

Eight Pacific Coast Colleges Will Be Represented at Conference

Plans are being completed for the presidents of the student bodies of the eight colleges in the Pacific Coast conference to meet November 9, 10 and 11, at the University of Southern California, for their semi-annual conference. The University of California, Southern branch, will also help to entertain the visiting presidents and editors.

Members of the association include the University of Washington, University of Oregon, University of California, Orgeon Agricultural college, University of Idaho, University of Southern California, Washington State university and Stanford university.

Records Shattered

Enrollment records were shattered last week at the University of Southern California, when 9000 students registered for classes. Figures at the College of Liberal Arts surpassed all other colleges, but the recently published announcement of the Dental Educational Council of America that the U. S. C. School of Dentistry ranked first of all Class A colleges in the country, brought unprecedented crowds to that department.

A staff of seventeen new instructors has been added to the faculty, including Dr. Karl T. Waugh, who becomes dean of the College of Liberal Arts, a recently created position.

Opposes Hazing

Declaring himself opposed without reservation to physical violence in the enforcement of traditions, President R. B. von Klein-Smid dealt a death blow last week to hazing in any form at the University of Southern California.

"Tradition is worthy, in so far as history is concerned," Dr. von KleinSmid remarked in a mass meeting of students, the board of trustees, the board of education and the conference committee of the Methodist church. "We should love the principles of right and justice just as much as we love tradition, and we must recommend that the sophomores, whose time-honored duty it has been to teach traditions to freshmen, concern themselves with other things. If they have nothing else to concern themselves about, they should attempt to ascertain the cause of the amazing shortage of bananas."

Preview Tonight for Glendale Theatre Fans

"Letty," the one-act comedy presented by Mr. and Mrs. Tom Lingham and company, at the 9 o'clock performance at the Glendale Theatre last night, proved to be a delightful bit of entertainment. The parts were played by Tom Lingham, Katherine Goodrich (Mrs. Lingham) and George Kunkel.

A preview with the intriguing title "No More Women" is announced by Manager William A. Howe for presentation tonight at the Glendale Theatre. This will be in addition to the regular feature, "Youth to Youth," featuring Billie Dove.

"No More Women" is offered by Associated Authors and is said to be a comedy in six parts. Elmer Harris wrote the story, which was directed by Lloyd Ingraham. In the cast are Matt Moore, Madge Bellamy and Kathleen Clifford. The picture is a United Artists' release.

Gospel Tabernacle Meetings Thronged

Splendid attendance is reported by Rev. C. H. Chrisman from the convention meetings at the Gospel Tabernacle at the corner of South Louise and Chestnut streets. Over 400 are in attendance at the various meetings, the audience representing members of the Christian Missionary Alliance in all parts of the United States.

The addresses by Rev. E. J. Richards are proving of wide interest, and tonight at 7:30 o'clock he will speak on "Paying the Price."

Other meetings on Thursday and Friday will be: 2:30 o'clock, address by Rev. George W. Davis, "The Perfect Day;" 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Richards, "The Burnt Offering or the Price of Victory;" Friday, 2:30 o'clock, Dr. Frederick W. Farr, "The Alliance Door Into the Deeper Christian Life;" 7:30 o'clock, Rev. Richards, "The Cleansing of the Temple."

Giant Airship Makes Perfect Night Flight

LAKEHURST, N. J., Oct. 3.—The ZR-1, the navy's giant dirigible, landed here after its return night flight from St. Louis, Mo., at 6:48 o'clock this morning.

The great ship, carrying Rear Admiral Moffatt, chief of the bureau of naval aeronautics, was in the air 21 hours and 18 minutes. The westward flight was of about the same duration. The crew was in the air approximately two days and two nights with but two hours and twenty minutes spent at the St. Louis air field.

Commander McCrary, piloting the flight, which carried the great ship over the principal cities of the middle west, declared the test to have produced perfect results."

Manganese bronze, salvaged from the old ship Santa Clara, first put into service in the early '90s, is being converted into automobile parts.

4000 PUPILS AT SOUTHERN BRANCH

Registration of Students to Close Saturday, Oct. 6, Faculty Rules

Last year's record enrollment of 3257 at the Southern branch, University of California, will be exceeded by nearly 1000, according to present estimates, bringing the 1923 student body total to 4000. Registration closes Saturday, October 6, allowing ample time for last-minute entrants. Glendale's quota of students totals nearly two score.

The California Pep Band made its first bow to the public this afternoon at Moore field, another Varsity-Frosh scrimmage took place, and the preliminary yell-leader contest was held. All in all, there wasn't a dull moment. Vic Beall, '26, in charge of the Pep Band, supplied the melody, Franklin Pierce, '26, head yell-leader, furnished the howls—and the scrimmage climaxed the program.

As a result of this scrimmage, it is seen that while the Frosh team will make other first year organizations step fast this fall, the Varsity is pretty green and needs Coach Cline's ablest efforts. The chief difficulty seems to be in the backfield, although the whole team is suffering from lack of experience. There will be a Varsity-Frosh game Saturday afternoon, after which the situation can be sized up more accurately.

Peagreeners vs. Sophs

Peagreeners are anxiously assembling their cohorts for the big tussle Friday afternoon, when they will enagage the callous Sophs in rough-and-tumble events for lower class supremacy. The tilts are booked to get under way at 4 o'clock, at Moore field. Ivan Taggart, '25, president of the sophomore class, and Kent Blanche, '25, leader of the Vigilantes, are in charge of the event. It has been decided that the freshmen will continue to wear the blue felt hats with the gold ribbons, no matter who wins the brawl.

A "battalion of death" has been organized under Tillio Pariso, head of the rally committee, to guard the entrance to Millspaugh hall during the assembly, to the end that there be less noise during addresses. Two ropes have been stretched across the hall, forming an enclosed section which is "holy ground," sacredly guarded by the above mentioned battalion. Admission to the comptroller's and recorder's offices can be had through the side entrances.

As a result of a new Bema policy, whereby every member will debate this year, twelve young women will participate in the final tryouts at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, October 4, in room No. 120, Millspaugh hall, reports Miss Helen Jackson, president of the organization. She states that Bema will constitute an open squad for the university women's debate team, all members being required to debate questions within the squad.

Permit Totals Reach $117,195 for Month

Almost $29,000 worth of building permits were issued yesterday at the city hall despite the fact that the total for the previous day was $88,400.

October started her third day this morning with optimistic spirits for Glendale's growth. She had no reason to do so for she has $117,195 worth of building permits to her credit already. The total for the year so far is $7,433,166.

Permits issued yesterday were as follows:

Court Thronged for Masquerader's Trial

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—Criminal court was filled today with a crowd eager to hear Freddie Thompson's own story on the witness stand. The defendant, who resents being called a man and made to wear trousers, is charged with murder in the death of Richard C. Tesmer, rich insurance man.

The defendant, whose feminine tendencies for sewing his fellow prisoners' torn clothing, is contradicted by his masculine beard, was all confidence of an acquittal in what he calls a "silly mess."

Foothill Assn. Names Mitchell President

Annual election of officers was the outstanding business before last night's meeting of the Glendale Foothill Improvement association, as a result of which Alexander Mitchell once more heads the organization.

The meeting was held in the kindergarten room of the Grand View school, with a large attendance on hand. The following reports of committees were heard, accepted and ordered filed: street lighting, cleaning of vacant lots, removing of papers from streets, and a resume of the Patterson avenue park situation.

The following officers for the year were then elected: Alexander Mitchell, president; James Conner, vice president; Clement Hill, treasurer; and Miss Carrietta Conner, secretary.

Following are the members of the new executive committee: Mrs. Charles Elisperman, Dr. J. G. Grim, Mrs. Oliver G. Thompson, Mrs. George A. Lucas, Mrs. M. B. Buckman, E. H. Botsford and C. L. Jenkins.

Ancient Turtle Goes on Junket to City

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 3.—Secluding himself in a dense forest for more than fifty years, a wise and grim-visaged old terrapin of the dry-land species wandered into Atlanta the other day, still bearing on his back the figures "1871," which were engraved there during that year by M. C. Cantrell, owner of the farm near where the ancient turtle had made his habitat.

The hard-shelled old animal carried two other dates—1902 and 1915—which were perhaps placed there by two kind friends he by chance had met since 1871. His legs are rough and covered with carbuncles; his head is wrinkled, but his eyes are bright and look full of intelligence.

Mr. Terrapin was taken back to the farm where he has maintained squatter's rights since he was first dated into society, and I. S. Cantrell, son of his former landlord and master, took him into custody as a souvenir.

Chinese Government Reforests Big Areas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—While America is using more lumber annually than it is producing and ignoring the pressing need of reforestation, the Chinese have recognized the value of reforesting and are applying the principle, according to advices received by the Department of Commerce.

The Shansi government has inaugurated a bureau of forestry with six branches, and tree planting on government land is going ahead steadily. In addition, private land owners are also planting trees on all available land.

It is estimated, the report states, over 100,000,000 trees are being planted annually. The Shansi government hopes to reforest some 30,000,000 acres of land.

Adventist Academy Enrolls 321 Students

A total of 321 pupils have been enrolled to date in the Glendale Academy of the Seventh-day Adventist denomination, reports D. A. Ochs, principal. Of these, 195 are taking the grades from 1 to 8, while 126 are in the academy work.

The addition of Professor N. C. Bungor to the teaching staff makes a total of thirteen instructors now on the faculty of the Glendale academy, Principal Ochs states.

A preponderant percentage of the enrollment is from Glendale, he points out. The balance of the student body at the institution comes from Eagle Rock, Pasadena, Burbank and Montrose.

At the opening exercises, held 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, September 25, the prominent speakers on the program included W. M. Adams, president of the Southern California conference of Seventh-day Adventists; and W. W. Ruble, educational secretary of the Pacific Union conference of the denomination.

Coolidge Calls Law and Order Confab

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—President Coolidge's law and order conference—called to discuss the enforcement of the prohibition, immigration and anti-narcotic laws—will be held in Washington on October 20, it was announced at the White House today.

The governors will be entertained at luncheon at the executive mansion on October 20, and will then plunge into a general discussion of law enforcement with a view to agreeing on plans for greater co-operation between the states and the federal government.

Complete plans for the conference were not made public, but it was announced that Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Attorney-General Daugherty, Secretary of Labor Davis, and Assistant Secretary of Labor Henning would address the governors on law enforcement problems coming under their respective jurisdiction.

Methodist Conference Transfers Dr. Brink

Los Angeles, immediately. Announcement of their departure from Glendale is being received with regret by their numerous friends. Rev. Brink is now president of the Glendale Ministerial Union.

Other Pastors Remain

All other Methodist pastors in Glendale have been returned for the coming year. They are: Dr. Henry L. Rasmus and Rev. Harry Rasmus, First Methodist church; Rev. J. C. Livingston, Casa Verdugo Methodist church, and Rev H. C. Mullen, Pacific Avenue Methodist church.

Election of delegates from the Southern California Methodist conference to the 1924 general conference was completed yesterday, when the following were chosen:

Dr. E. T. Helms, of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Los Angeles; Dr. Bromley Oxnam, Church of All Nations; Los Angeles; Dr. Lincoln A. Ferris, First Methodist Episcopal church, San Diego; Dr. W. L. Y. Davis, district superintendent of the Pasadena district, and Dr. G. Cliff of the First Methodist church, Redlands.

Delegates Chosen

Three delegates were elected yesterday afternoon. They were F. M. Larkin, editor of the California Christian Advocate; Dr. Merle W. Smith of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and Dr. F. F. H. Stevens of Fresno, general secretary of the local conference.

Five ballots in all were necessary in the choice of the eight delegates. Three alternates are yet to be selected.

Heated discussion marked today's session, when the report of Dr. R. B. Stout, chairman of the committee of superannuated, was read and adopted by a close vote, 118 to 96. The report stated that although 254 of the 305 churches in the conference had met their conference claimants' charges for the support of retired ministers, some pressure was needed to force the delinquent churches to pay up.

ESTIMATE WHEAT CROP

Italy's wheat crop this year has been officially estimated at 40,000,000 bushels greater than last year's, and Spain's at 17,000,000 more bushels.

Launch Move to Fix Farm Products Prices

control the hard wheat crop," said Johnson today. "It is our purpose to fix a fair price for hard wheat based on the cost of production plus a small profit. We will not sell a bushel under this price and if we don't get it, we'll hold the crops on our farms.

"When the hard wheat belt is organized, we'll take in other territory. This is the only guarantee the farmer has against future depressions. If the price were fixed—say, even at $1.75 a bushel, it would only be putting his business on the same basis with all other forms of industry."

Plan Wins Favor

The Johnson plan was endorsed today by Gray Silver, spokesman for the American Farm Bureau federation.

"It is a sound, economic principle to organize the farmers to fix the prices on their own products," said Silver. "It is the same principle employed by the steel industry in fixing its famous 'Pittsburg plus' price on manufactured steel. For the farmer, it would be 'production plus'—the cost of production plus a small profit. Such a plan is economically sound and is just."

Mystic Smile Chapter in New Lodge Rooms

The Glendale Chapter of the Mystic Smile of which Charles E. Rich is Grand Mystic Smiler, has secured lodge and recreation rooms in the Filger building, directly across from the City Hall on East Broadway.

The new quarters consist of an assembly room capable of seating 250 people, and several smaller apartments. An extensive campaign is reported to be under way for the purpose of furnishing and re-decorating the rooms.

Besides the membership drive the Smilers are conducting, plans are being formulated for several social events to be given in the new lodge rooms as soon as they are ready for occupancy.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"Youth to Youth" offers patrons of the Glendale Theatre a picture that is distinctly different. It is the first of a special series being made by Metro. The story, by Hulbert Footner, is delightful; the direction of Emile Chautard is distinctive; the cast, including Billie Dove, Cullen Landis, Zazu Pitts and Noah Beery, is outstanding.

A faithful, sound characterization marks this film of youth and its problems. The theme is of a girl who didn't know she was bad; a beautiful musical comedy star, worshipped by all New York, who suddenly quits because of rumors against her character, and falls in love with a young farmer in a small rural community.

"Youth to Youth" shows 19-year-old Billie Dove to be worthy of all the honors that have been showered on her, of late, as a rising film actress.

Chosen has 17,500,000 population.

THE GATEWAY

"Rupert of Hentzau," photoplay on a grand scale, from the romantic novel by Sir Anthony Hope, author of "The Prisoner of Zenda," to which it is the sequel, shows today for the last times at the Gateway Theatre, with a genuine all-star cast including Elaine Hammerstein, Bert Lytell, Lew Cody, Hobart Bosworth, Bryant Washburn, Marjorie Daw, Elmo Lincoln, Claire Windsor, Irving Cummings and Mitchell Lewis—truly a mighty aggregation of talent.

The story deals with the romantic adventures of Rudolph Rassendyl, a young Englishman who is almost a perfect double for the King of Ruritania, a mythical kingdom. He is in love with the king's wife, Queen Flavia, and vice versa. This fact, together with his striking facial resemblance, leads to the many thrilling complications.

"Rupert of Hentzau" was directed by Victor Heerman and is released by the Selznick Distributing corporation.

SUNLAND

SCHOOL TEACHER KILLED BY AUTO

Pasadena Girl Succumbs to Injuries Received at Sunland Sunday

Tragedy stalked among the pleasure seekers at Monte Vista park, Sunland, Sunday, when Miss Suzanne Thomas, high school teacher of Pasadena, was struck down in the street at the edge of the park by an automobile driven by Kenneth Dyer of Sunland, receiving injuries from which she died Monday morning at the Tujunga Emergency hospital.

According to the report, Miss Thomas was at the park with others and had gone to a nearby confectionery to make some purchases. As she was hurrying across the street that runs past the park, Dyer came by at what witnesses state was entirely too fast for safety in this congested section, and struck Miss Thomas.

She was hurried to the Tujunga Emergency hospital and was found to be suffering from a broken leg, fractured skull and internal injuries. In order to give all possible aid to the injured woman, Dr. Bain of the Emergency hospital called in Miss Thomas' family physcian, Dr. Beyer, of Pasadena, in consultation, but her injuries were such that little could be done, and she died Monday morning.

Miss Thomas lived at 70 North Bonnie street, Pasadena, and leaves a widowed mother, an aunt and a cousin. The body will be taken to her old home in Vermont for interment.

Injured in Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brandstetter of Sunland and Dick Patterson of Tujunga were injured Monday night when their car was wrecked by a truck driven, according to Brandstetter, by Vernon Carter, also of Sunland.

The Brandstetter car was ditched and overturned by the crash, which occurred on the state highway west of Sunland. Mrs. Brandstetter was badly shaken up and received severe bruises and abrasions. Her husband also was severely bruised. Patterson was more fortunate and escaped painful injuries.

According to Brandstetter, Carter was driving his truck without lights, and crashed into the lighter car, overturning it. Patterson was thrown clear of the machine, but Mrs. and Mrs. Brandstetter were dragged some distance on the pavement.

Life Hangs in Balance

According to reports from the Tujunga Emergency hospital, Mr. Ainsworth, who was injured in an accident on Michigan avenue east of Tujunga last week, has been removed to the Pacific Hospital in Los Angeles and is not expected to live. Mr. Kirk, who was riding with Ainsworth at the time, has been removed to his home in Los Angeles, and is improving.

The two men were thrown from a car driven by G. T. Lee of Tujunga, when it collided with one driven by A. Maxwell of Sunland.

FORD PRICE CUT EFFECTIVE HERE

$4 to $40 Savings Noted on Universal Car; Small Increase on Tractors

DETROIT, Oct. 3.—Reduction of $40 in the price of the Ford four-door sedan and reductions in the prices of the runabout, touring-car, coupe, chassis and one-ton truck were announced the first of the month by Edsel F. Ford, president of the Ford Motor company. The price reductions announced are as follows at the factory:

Runabout, $4; with starter and demountable rims, $14; touring cars, $3; with starter and demountable rims, $14. Coupe, $5; four-door sedan, $40; chassis, $5, and one-ton truck, $10.

The new prices apply to the Ford weekly purchase plan. Persons who enrolled under the plan and who have not yet taken delivery of their cars automatically benefit by the reduction in prices.

The last price reduction by the Ford company was made about a year ago.

The price of the Fordson tractor is increased $25.

No change is made in the prices of Lincoln cars and none is contemplated, the Ford company considering the present prices fair.

The Jesse E. Smith Co., authorized Ford dealers in Glendale, announce the new prices elsewhere in this issue.

'Wolf of Wall Street' Deported From Mexico

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—David Lamar, the "wolf of Wall street," has been deported from Mexico and under the custody of Mexican authorities is on his way to El Paso, Texas, the department of justice announced.

Upon his arrival in El Paso, Lamar will be turned over to American officers and taken to New York to stand trial. Lamar jumped a $25,000 bail and escaped into Mexico.

BURBANK

SIGN WILL SHOW LIMITS OF CITY

Motorists Entering Burbank Will Receive Warning To Slacken Speed

With the passage by the Board of Trustees of a resolution authorizing F. Curt Miller city engineer, to remove the Burbank sign on San Fernando boulevard to the north city limits, speeders will in future be given a more even break in the proceedings.

The common alibi of those apprehended has been, "we thought we were out of the city." This alibi has unfailingly softened Judge A. A. Crawford's heart. Hence the decision to remove the sign to a point north of which motorists may do as they choose, as far as Burbank speed cops are concerned.

The sign had been placed at its former location by reason of a fear that visiting motorists should they see the sign at the outer limits, would think Burbank covered altogether too much undeveloped territory, a fear that diminishes as the city expands.

Veterans Have Big Time

The local camp, Veterans of Foreign Wars, affiliated with the national body, gave a banquet and entertainment Monday night, October 1, at the armory, the splendid program including singers and dancers from Los Angeles.

The affair was in charge of F. G. Walters, commander of the local camp, assisted by M. S. Barnaby, adjutant. Many men who saw foreign service were present.

Sunday, October 7, will be "Young Men's Rally Day", when every young man between the ages of eighteen and forty will attend some local church. Special services will be held and every church member is urged to locate some stranger and invite him to church

F. P. Woellner, Ph. D., who is giving a course in "Good Citizenship" at the Edison school, in connection with the extension work of the Southern Branch, U. of C., talks today from 4 until 6 o'clock His lectures are designed particularly to instruct teachers and parents in methods of bringing to the younger generation a better understanding of the American constitution.

Rumor Olin Is Seen

George M. Olin, defaulting city treasurer who disappeared from Burbank five years ago last April, taking with him $12,000 of the city's money, has been reported seen by a woman at Joplin, Mo., Chief John H. Long of the police department told the board of trustees at their last meeting.

The question arises, according to Chief Long, of how important it would be to Burbank to bring this criminal to justice, and what sum it would be worth paying to accomplish this result. At present there is a reward of $100 still offered for Olin's capture, but that is felt hardly sufficient to cause anyone to go far.

The board of trustees told Chief Long to proceed with any plans he might have for bringing Olin to justice, but they did not say anything about financing the effort.

While a resident of Burbank, George M. Olin "hit the high places," spending money in such fashion that few people were surprised when he defaulted. The city recovered $2000 on his bond, but never got back any of the $12,000 he took with him.

Vesper Heads Masonic Building Association

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Glendale Masonic Building association was held at the Masonic temple on South Brand boulevard yesterday, when the following directors were elected for the ensuing term: F. H. Vesper, Dwight Stephenson, Fred Deal, William McMillan and Ed Sadler.

Mr. Vesper was chosen president of the association and Mr. Sadler will fill the office of secretary-treasurer.

The retiring directors are Clem Moore, Newton Van Why, George H. Blythe and H. A. Strong.

EAGLE ROCK

VOLLMER SPEAKS ON CRIME FIGHT

Record Turn-out Expected by Improvement Body in Neighbor Suburb

August Vollmer, Los Angeles chief of police and one of the greatest criminologists in America, will speak tonight at the Eagle Rock school, under the auspices of the improvement association.

The meeting will take place at 8 o'clock. H. M. Bruce, president of the association, will preside. The topic of Chief Vollmer's remarks will be "Fighting Crime."

Inasmuch as several efforts have previously been made to secure Mr. Vollmer for a meeting of the improvement association, with the result of necessary postponements when he could not accept, it is felt by Mr. Bruce and others of the association that there should be a record turn-out tonight.

Dahlia Show Tomorrow

Tomorrow afternoon, October 4, at 3 o'clock, the second annual Dahlia Show opens in the Women's Twentieth Century clubhouse, Colorado boulevard at Kenilworth avenue. There will also be a night exhibit, at 8 o'clock. It is expected that the array of blooms will be even more gorgeous than a year ago. A nominal admission charge will be made.

All who stop to take in this beautiful exhibit will be the richer thereby, feel those who have devoted a large amount of energy to furthering the affair, among them J. J. Broomall and Mrs. C. W. Young.

A number of worth while prizes have been donated, among them: $20 for the best general display, arranged for effect; $15 for the largest collection of dahlias from any one garden; four $10 prizes, three $5 prizes, two $3 prizes, together with special donations for the children's division.

The dahlia is indigenous to the soil of Mexico and was grown by the Aztecs under the name "Ococtli," before the invasion of Cortez. It received its modern name from Professor Andrew Dahl, a Swedish botanist, who did much to bring it to its present high state of cultivation.

P.-T. A. Entertains Faculty

The Parent-Teacher association membership drive came to an end at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon with an informal reception for the faculty of the Eagle Rock school.

The affair opened at 2:30 o'clock in the kindergarten room of the Eagle Rock school. Mrs. R. Scott, P.-T. A. extension secretary, was one of the speakers.

Following the program, refreshments were served.

Personal Notes

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schneider of East Adams avenue have been entertaining Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stone and daughter, Miss Grace Stone of Geneva, Wis., and Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stone of Chicago. Mrs. Bert Stone is Mr. Schneider's sister. C. H. Stone is president of a bank in Geneva. He is so impressed with Southern California and Eagle Rock that he plans to close out his eastern interests and return here to live.

Rev. and Mrs. B. B. Weatherall have sold their home at 5206 Eddy avenue. While Mr. Weatherall's health has somewhat improved he will not be able to do confining work. Their many friends will regret to see them leave Eagle Rock.

Alleged Bluebeard to Face Tacoma Courts

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—Alleged to have confessed to having at least six wives in various cities of the west and middle western sections of the country, Harry R. Roshon, held in the city jail, is awaiting the arrival of two police officers from Tacoma, Wash., who are said to be armed with extradition papers to secure his return to that city.

State Banks Scored In Committee Hearing

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The service of the federal reserve system to the country is impeded by the failure of state banks and trust companies to ally themselves with this government financial agency, Dr. R. Crissinger, governor of the federal reserve board, told a special congressional committee which is investigating the relations of the reserve system and state banking interests.

Postpone Passage of Sentence on Slayer

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 3.—The sentencing of A. F. Champion, convicted slayer of James Goldy during an asserted "crap" game, was delayed yesterday until October 6, when his attorney entered a motion for a new trial and Judge Hardy set that date for hearing arguments on the motion.

Clothes, Dental Work Sole Identity Clues

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—Investigators for the coroner's office are endeavoring to gain some trace of the identity of the body of a woman found in the surf at the beach. The body had apparently been in the water at least a month and beyond the clothing and dental work there are no means of identification.

Western Union Co. to Improve Local Service

that faces the Western Union today.

Efforts are being made to overcome this obstacle to better service, he asserts, and to secure a force that will be of a less transient nature than has been possible in the past.

The monthly turnover in Glendale, Mr. Williams stated averages $2200, but against this it was pointed out that many Glendale telegrams are telephoned in to the head office of the company in Los Angeles, where day and night service is maintained, and if this business could be handled through the local office it would mean a substantial increase in the volume sent through the Glendale branch.

J. E. Meany, city commercial manager of the Los Angeles office, and C. H. Gulley, who is scheduled to fill the position of manager in Glendale, were present at the conference and promised to lend every assistance to bettering the company's service here, part of this improvement, it is stated, being the opening of the office for longer hours on Sunday.

MISSION WORKERS BANDIT CAPTIVES

Chinese Outlaws Raid Boat of Priest; Bullets Rain Round U. S. Flag

MANILA, Oct. 3.—A dispatch from Shanghai today reported that Missionary C. Howard Bird and his wife of Honan province have been captured by the same Chinese bandits who carried off and held for ransom Misses Darrach and Sharp.

Father Timothy McDermott, veteran American priest, was captured at Tungwan, in Honan province, on his small boat, which was fired upon despite the American flag at its masthead. The boat was ransacked, the Shanghai advices stated, and the priest released.

Chinese Delay Reply to Kidnaping Probe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—The diplomatic corps in Peking is having considerable difficulty in getting the Chinese government to agree to the demands for sanctions in connection with the kidnaping of foreigners in Shantung a few months ago, it was announced at the state department today.

The reply of the Chinese foreign office to the demands of the diplomats has been transmitted to Secretary of State Hughes by the Chinese minister here.

GERMAN CABINET FIGHTS FOR LIFE

Plots and Counterplots Are Revealed as Socialists Struggle Along

By S. D. WEYER
For International News Service

BERLIN, Oct. 3.—Socialist members of the Stresemann government today won the first round of battle to create a new coalition cabinet with Nationalists represented. The socialist members not only withstood all efforts to force them out, but all attempts to bring in Nationalists.

Dr. Luther, the food minister, who resigned yesterday, reconsidered and withdrew his resignation. Dr. Von Raumer, minister of economics, who also resigned, refused to return to the ministry. The former is a member of the Centrist party; the latter of the German people's party.

While Dr. Von Raumer was the only minister out up to noon today the cabinet was wobbling under pressure from various sources.

The cabinet sat until 3o'clock this morning. After adjournment Dr. Sollmann, minister of interior, told International News Service:

"Rather than resign we socialist ministers would send the reichstag home."

The political battle continues unabated. The German people's party is making desperate efforts to dislodge the socialists, but Chancellor Stresemann realizes a government without socialist representation at this time could not stand.

Communists are hopeful that an outright Nationalist government will be formed in the belief that such an administration will make itself so obnoxious by midwinter that the reds can seize the reins and proclaim a dictatorship.

A secret voluntary military organization known as the "Black Reichswehr" and designed as an auxiliary of the regular reichswehr was responsible for the Nationalist uprising at Kuestrin on Sunday, it was learned today. The organization planned a big coup, intending to occupy the so-called "Oder line" at Pivatsat, Doerbritz, Jueterbog, Kuestrin and Stralsund.

The plot was nipped in the bud by President Ebert appointing Minister of Defense Gessler dictator.

The "Black Reichswehr" are mainly young students and sons of Nationalists.

It is learned that Captain Ehrhardt, one of the leaders in the Kapp uprising at Berlin, is one of the chief backers of the "Blacks." They are said to outnumber the regular reichswehr three times. These communists are said to have spies in both organizations.

Ehrhardt is making his headquarters on Denholm island, near Stralsund, with constant courier service between himself and Dr. Heitler, at Munich, leader of the Bavarian fasicisti.

Hero Who Saved Trio Is Given Rich Farm

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Oct. 3.—For once heroism has been given a real, material reward. Leslie Wiese, Portland youth, has been presented with 500 acres of choice Walla Walla wheat land as the result of saving the three young sons of L. W. Lever, of Troutdale, Ore., from drowning in the Columbia river, near their home.

The grateful father, according to report reaching here, made the gift after one of the finest exhibitions of skill and strength seen in Troutdale in some time. The Lever boys were rowing in a small boat in the Columbia river when the craft became unmanageable in the swift current. The lads became excited and jumped overboard. Their inability to swim was immediately apparent to Wiese, on the bank of the river. He dove into the stream and rescued the trio after a hard fight in which his life was endangered.

The land Wiese will get is located ten miles east of this city on a paved highway. Its yield for the last 30 years has been from 40 to 50 bushels an acre, and it is worth $300 an acre.

Rice and Shoes at Trains Are Tabooed

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Newlyweds about to embark on their honeymoon trip over the sea of matrimony are to be protected from the usual shower of rice and old shoes with which custom has decreed their friends shall express their good will and wishes for a happy journey.

Delaware, Lackawanna & Western officials, in Syracuse on a tour of inspection recently, said plans have been formulated to put a stop to the rice-throwing and shoe-heaving pastimes, which they declare endanger the safety of passengers at the stations. The action follows a recording of several injuries suffered by witnesses of wedding celebrations on station platforms.

A patron standing on a Buffalo platform recently was struck in the face by a handful of rice, one kernel of which pierced his left eyeball. A Binghamton woman suffered a sprained ankle several days ago when she slipped on some rice and fell on the cement platform. Demonstrations of this kind should be confined to the homes, railroad officials assert.

Ex-Crown Prince Off on Mysterious Trip

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 3.—The former German crown prince, who is living in exile upon the island of Wieringen, departed today for an unknown and mysterious destination.

The ex-crown prince was accompanied by the burgomaster of Wieringen as he crossed to the mainland.

A courier had arrived at Wieringen from Munich Monday night, evidently with dispatches bearing upon the nationalist movement to Bavaria.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 3.—Claiming that a school book known as "Health Lessons, Book Two," by Alvin Davidson, contains a drawing showing "a simple still for distillation of whiskey," accompanied by a description of the process of distillation, and that the superintendent of a county school has caught some of his boys under the school house using this book as a guide in the construction of a still, J. Bibb Mills, superintendent of the anti-saloon league of Alabama, made a drive for abolition of this book from Alabama schools.

Mills, together with Dr. W. B. Crumpton, appeared before the state board of education, protesting the use of the book, stating that its evil influences are far-reaching. The board, according to the state anti-saloon league chief, has agreed to abandon it in Alabama schools.

Speedy British Plane In Schneider Contest

LONDON, Oct. 3.—Great Britain's entrant for the Schneider Cup race, the Napier Supermarine Sea Lion, which won the race for her at Naples last year, has been thoroughly reconstructed for this year's race—scheduled to take place at Cowes, Isle of Wight, on September 27.

Her potential speed has been increased to 160 miles per hour, her wing span reduced from 30 feet to 24 feet, and her engine increased to 450 horse-power.

Her chances, however, are not regarded very favorably in view of the keen United States competition.

Fifty Years Wedded, Tell Happiness Rule

LIMA, Ohio, Oct. 3.—"To be happy throughout married life, just look on the bright side and overlook the things that vex and worry."

This is the advice given by Mr. and Mrs. Andrew L. Kesler, widely known residents of Delphos, near here. Mr. and Mrs. Kesler recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Kesler is 75. Mrs. Kesler is 68 years of age. Of twelve children born to them eight are living.

Polish War Hero Will Attend Legion Meet

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 3.—General Joseph Haller, commander of the Polish army in France during the world war, will be a distinguished guest at the American Legion national convention in San Francisco, October 15 to 19, is was announced today by legion state headquarters here.

General Haller became one of the best known war leaders during his command of 100,000 Polish volunteers fighting on the western front. His command included 25,000 Americans of Polish descent. General Haller will land in New York a short time before the legion convention and will proceed to San Francisco after a short visit to Washington to pay his respects to President Coolidge and at the tomb of the Unknown soldier.

Following the convention he will make an extensive tour of American cities under the auspices of legion posts and units of the Polish Army Veterans' association of America.

Plane Fires Torpedo Weighing 1500 Lb.

LONDON, Oct. 3.—A new seaplane capable of firing a torpedo weighing three-quarters of a ton at an excessive speed has recently been put through tests on the Humber river.

The machine is able to travel to its objective at 140 miles an hour and maintain a speed in the air of 100 miles an hour.

A new device on the elevators enables the seaplane to swoop down almost on the water to deliver its torpedo, while its great speed makes it a difficult target for anti-aircraft guns.

106 DUCKS BAGGED BY LOCAL NIMRODS

Glen-Ar-Ben at Big Bear Lake Scene of Feast and Fun for 14

Glen-Ar-Ben at Bear Lake became a hunting lodge over the week-end for a party of fourteen local nimrods who enjoyed the hospitality of the Bentleys and Park Arnold.

They report bagging 106 ducks, all told, and they do not boast of many sprigs, but they did have a most enjoyable time. The party left Glendale Saturday afternoon and enjoyed the chill of the evening on the Rim of the World.

The next morning found them playing ball and in the afternoon, after a man-made dinner the party engaged in a woodchopping contest, something like five to fifteen cords being neatly cut up and ricked. George Bentley and Fred L. Smith won the prize for doing the most work. They admit it.

Feast on Ducks

Needless to say, this whetted their appetite for ducks and with the earliest dawn the shotguns were shuddering murder over the lake. Monday was feast day and the party arrived in Glendale Tuesday morning with great tales to tell.

VENTURA COUNTY FAIR

Numerous Glendale people who hanker for an old time county fair are planning to visit Ventura this week end and see the show put on there. The Ventura county fair is typical of those seen in the east, it is said, with a large variety of farm products on display.

Passage of Sewer Bonds Forms Paramount Issue For City, Chamber Agrees

THE paramount importance of the passage of the proposed sewer bond issue to finance the installation of the Glendale sewer system, under the terms of the contract recently completed between this city and the city of Los Angeles, was stressed by W. L. Twining, chairman of the advertising committee, at the board meeting of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce last night.

Mr. Twining declared that a campaign of education on this subject must be launched immediately, to overcome not only the active opposition to the project, but the lack of actual knowledge of the conditions that exists in the minds of many Glendale people at present. "Public sentiment in favor of the sewer bonds must be created," he asserted, "if the project is to succeed."

Quick Action Needed

Of major importance to the passage of the sewer bonds, C. E. Kimlin asserted, is the necessity of organizing the various districts of the city in such a manner that the strongest possible vote may be polled on election day, and City Manager W. H. Reeves pointed out some of the difficulties that lie ahead of Glendale in authorizing the issue of the bonds, stressing the need for immediate action if the matter is to be settled within the ninety-day limit set by the terms of the contract.

A committee will be appointed to form an aggressive organization that will aid in the campaign for the passage of the bonds, cooperating with the City Council in every detail of the work.

The directors considered the request of the advertising committee that a fund of $25,000 be raised to carry on the advertising campaign that has been started, and which it is planned to extend over a wider field than has been possible up till this time.

The existing arrangement between the Glendale Chamber of Commerce and Community Service, by which the latter rents a portion of the Chamber of Commerce offices and is allowed part time services of a Chamber of

'Human Wreckage' Is Coming to Gateway

"Human Wreckage," the first and foremost film dealing with the dope evil in the United States, will be seen this week end at the Gateway Theatre. It has been previewed here and given wonderful premieres in San Francisco, Los Angeles and New York.

Of course, it gets its appeal from the fact that it is Dorothy Davenport Reid's contribution to the world in commemoration of the loss of a devoted husband and father, Wallace Reid, who died in his attempt to break the chain of dope which bound him.

Mrs. Reid is well known in Glendale and her efforts no doubt will meet with hearty response in a large attendance at the Gateway.

D. A. Johnston Heads Rhoades & Smith Co.

D. A. Johnston, a resident of Tujunga, who is well known in realty circles here, has become manager of the real estate department of Rhoades & Smith, 106 East Wilson avenue. A separate suite of offices with room for the five salesmen of the firm is being fitted up by the firm.

Mr. Johnston for years was engaged in Y. M. C. A. work in Illinois and recently had a position with the dry movement in Southern California. His large acquaintance will be of value to the firm.

GLENDALE LURES TWO OHIO YOUTHS

Evening News Convinces Them That This Is Land of Opportunity

There is a lure about Glendale that is effective in bringing newcomers to this city, according to James M. Rhoades, member of the firm of Rhoades & Smith, realtors, 106 Wilson avenue, Glendale.

It seems that he has a sister, living back in Ohio on a farm, to whom he has sent copies of The Glendale Evening News for some time. And her grandson, Ralph Grabill, just turned 21, had been in the habit of dropping in and reading "Grandma's" California's "boostingest paper."

Ralph had never been out of his native state, so he discussed his plans with George Bowers, a neighbor lad, about coming to the coast. Between them they bought a Ford coupe and started westward ho—camping equipment, bull-dog and rifle to boot. It was a great adventure.

"Hello Uncle Jim"

The other day the pair walked into Mr. Rhoades' office and announced their arrival in the land of promise. And they're here to stay, going to work today with a determination to do as others have done, out here where the sun shines the year 'round.

V. M. Hollister of the Valley Supply company happened to overhear their story. It is the fourth pair of young fellows coming overland in the last week, he says, who have arrived in Glendale for work this winter.

The first frost has been felt in the east and the tourists are flocking here by the hundreds. These young fellows are but the vanguard of a mighty host in the opinion of Messrs. Rhoades and Hollister.

Europe depended on the Indies for silks, cashmeres and muslin, dyewoods, perfumes, spices, precious stones and pearls in the fifteenth ecntury.

PERILS OF OCEAN VOYAGE RELATED

Montrose Resident Tells of Raging Typhoon That Strikes Steamer

Letters received by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown of Montrose from their son, Harry Brown, who, with his wife, sailed from San Francisco on September 14 for India, carry news of exciting times on the voyage of the steamer President Lincoln, on which they sailed to the Orient.

The ship encountered a raging typhoon in mid-ocean, when the wind blew at a rate of 100 miles an hour, and which caused considerable excitement and no little fear. The furniture in the big dining saloon was thrown from side to side, the dishes were thrown to the floor, making it impossible for the attendants to serve anything but sandwiches to the passengers, who sought refuge in the social hall while the gale lasted.

All Ports Closed

For a period of twenty-four hours they were forced to keep the ports and windows closed, and the sunshine, when they were permitted to leave their stifling quarters, was a welcome sight.

On reaching Yokohama Mr. Brown wrote "We, with another party, took a survey of the city, doing some shopping, little thinking that in twenty-four hours that place would be no more.

"On reaching Shanghai we met my brother, Dr. Brown, who came down from Kuling, where he has been staying for the summer months. There we visited together for three days, after a long separation."

Their parents are eagerly waiting to hear of their safe arrival in Sangli, India, where Mr. Brown is principal of a boys' industrial school.

Federation President Praises Tuesday Afternoon Club in Opening Program of Year

By KATHERINE V. SINKS
Of The Evening News Staff

GREETINGS to the club that is setting the pace for making dreams come true, was the complimentary response from Mrs. John C. Urquhart, president of the California Federation of Women's Clubs, when she was presented yesterday as honored guest at the opening luncheon and meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale.

Mrs. Urquhart's last visit to the Tuesday Afternoon club was when the ground was broken for the present clubhouse and yesterday, when she was received in the beautiful club home and given an opportunity to greet the members, she recalled "the dusty, weedy lot" upon which the women had met to break ground.

"I realized that I was participating in an important club activity," said Mrs. Urquhart, "but I was not conscious of the dream that was in your president's heart. Not until today, when I have been privileged to walk about your wonderful building have I been able to grasp the ideal that was in your hearts that day.

Praises Clubhouse

"It is a beautiful clubhouse, replete in every detail, artistically designed and furnished and dominated with an atmosphere of peace."

There were 300 club women gathered in the banquet room for the luncheon, served on tables decorated with golden flowers. Mrs. Campbell and members of her board sat at the honor table with Mrs. Urquhart, Mrs. John W. Shenk, district chairman of American citizenship, and Mrs. W. A. McCormack, district corresponding secretary, as special guests.

Just before the luncheon hour the club members were presented with the new year books and the time spent greeting old and new members. An innovation introduced into club administration is the wearing of badges by the club officers, directors, curators and

J. E. Barney Displays Varieties of Squash

J. E. Barney of 131 North Brand boulevard, realtor, has on display in his office window a half dozen varieties of squash including the famous Hubbard squash which so appealed to a woman from the east who was recuperating from illness here that she begged her husband to buy the squash from Mr. Barney. Needless to say, the real estate man gladly gave it away as he raised a large number on an acre at Burbank.

Included in the garden was some Stamford sweet corn, the seed being sent Mr. Barney from Boston. It was "guaranteed not to grow in California," but it did with all the luscious "down east" flavor or a regular roasting ear.

BARBECUE DINNER

Fred Brombacher, of the Brombacher Iron Works, who furnished the structural steel for the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, was host last night to a party of twelve at a barbecue dinner and campfire party in Deer canyon. The party secured horses from the Oakmont Saddle Stables, Montrose, reports J. R. Thorpe, proprietor.

CITY'S COMMERCE NEEDS BUILDINGS

Firms Seeking Locations in Glendale Lost Through Lack of Facilities

The most pressing need for the industrial development of Glendale is buildings, in which the firms that are seeking locations here in numbers that are increasing every week, may be housed, according to L. H. Wilson, realtor, in a statement before the directors of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce at their weekly meeting last night.

Mr. Wilson's statement was made in answer to an assertion by Secretary E. F. Sanders that Glendale must bring more industries here to stabilize the commercial life of the community to act as a bulwark against any possible decline in the city's progress.

Stabilizing Force

"Cities all over the country that are lacking in the stabilizing force supplied by manufacturing industries with large forces of men on their payrolls," Mr. Sanders declared, "are subject to reaction and to a halt in their growth, and Glendale must prepare to meet and stave off a similar condition by the establishment of an industrial bureau within the Chamber of Commerce that will bring industries to the city. This bureau should be headed by an expert who would have at his command all possible data concerning costs and business conditions that he could furnish to those who seek to locate their business here."

Mr. Wilson asserted that industries are being lost to Glendale daily through the lack of buildings suitable for commercial purposes. The heads of concerns seeking new locations want to step right into a building without being put to the expense of erecting a building for themselves or waiting until some property owner can do so for them. Glendale investors, he claimed, lack the

TODAY—Changes in Irish Courts; Picturesque Customs Gone.

By DANIEL O'CONNELL
For International News Service

DUBLIN, Oct. 3.—With the coming of Irish freedom there are changes noticeable in the Irish courts of justice. The English royal coat of arms has disappeared from the judge's bench and no longer at the opening of the session is the King's Commission read.

The King's Commission was rather a picturesque thing and was read by the clerk of the court from a parchment the size of a newspaper to which was affixed a lump of sealing wax as big as a man's hand. The clerk, in solemn tones, started off with: "Stand up while the King's Commission is being read." And then the fun began. Everybody stood up; the clerk began his reading: "Oyez, oyez, all ye good and true men——," and no sooner would he get that far than some fellow in the gallery would promptly sit down, refusing to stand while a British king's words were being read in the court. The watchful crier, ever on the lookout for anybody showing disrespect to the king, would cry out "Man down!" for all the world as if giving the alarm that somebody had fallen overboard from a liner; and immediately the clerk would stop reading. The offender would promptly stand up when ordered to do so, but as soon as the clerk was under way again he would sit down, and again the crier would give the alarm.

The offender was given another chance, but his legs apparently would not bear him at the eloquent words of King George, and he would seat himself again. A third chance was never given, and there used to be a hurry and scurry of stalwart policemen to take the conscientious objector by the scruff of the neck and boot him out of the courthouse.

But that was only the beginning of the fun; another objector would take it on himself to begin where the departed one left off, and he, too, would be ejected.

After three or four offenders were dealt with in this way the judge generally began to lose patience and threatened to have the next one cast into prison. In this country, however, going to prison for such offences is no disgrace, and the judge's warning was usually unheeded. A dozen or more who had no intention of taking part in the comedy always were ready to go to jail for sitting down.

The reading of the King's Commission used to be great sport, and it is missed nowadays by the boys when they go to court. But gone soon will be the old order of things in the Irish courts. The government now intends to dismiss half of the judges and cut the other half's salary in two. The Irish people have lost patience with judges who drew immense salaries and worked three months every year and never more than four or five hours each day. An example of this was seen in the late Croker will suit, where the judge did not sit until 11 o'clock in the morning, took an hour for lunch and rose at 4:30. Now the government has mapped out districts of the country, and each judge has to cover his own area in a certain time.

It is also reported that in the very near future the wig and gown and all the other things associated with the English courts in this country in the past will be abolished by order of the Free State.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— By Howard R. Garis —

UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE WHITE SHOES

Once upon a time Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady housekeeper for Uncle Wiggily, sat in the hollow stump bungalow, sadly looking at a pair of soiled, white shoes. The shoes were quite dirty, spicked, spotted and spattered.

"Oh, dear!" sighed Nurse Jane. "I don't know what to do about these white shoes."

"What about them?" asked the bunny rabbit gentleman. "They only need cleaning with some of that white stuff you put on during the summer."

"That's just the trouble," went on Nurse Jane. "I do so dislike to clean white shoes, and yet I don't want to buy a new pair so late in the season. But I need a pair of clean white shoes to wear to Mrs. Wibblewobble's picnic. Dear me! I don't know what to do!"

"Perhaps you could borrow a pair of white shoes from some of your lady friends," said Uncle Wiggily. "Mrs. Twistytail, the pig lady, or Mrs. Ringtail, the raccoon lady, may have a pair of white shoes that are cleaner than yours."

"It's a good idea—I'll try it," said Nurse Jane. "I'll go over and ask Mrs. Twistytail."

She was gone only a short time before she came back looking more sad than ever.

"Didn't Mrs. Twistytail have any white shoes?" asked the bunny.

"Yes, but they were so large my feet slipped all over in them like roller skates," said Nurse Jane. "I'll go over and see what Mrs. Ringtail has. She is about my size."

And when Nurse Jane was gone Uncle Wiggily looked at his muskrat lady housekeeper's soiled white shoes.

"I think I'll surprise Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy," said the rabbit gentleman. "She would much rather wear her own shoes if they were only clean and white, so I'll clean and whiten them for her. I don't mind getting my paws all covered with chalk dust."

No soner said than done. Uncle Wiggily took Nurse Jane's shoes out on the back steps with a bottle of the white cleaning stuff and he set to work. He had one shoe partly whitened and was thinking what jolly fun it was—almost like an adventure—when, all of a sudden, Jackie Bow Wow, the puppy dog boy, came around the corner of the hollow stump bungalow.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" barked Jackie, and then, all of a sudden, he stopped. A queer look came over his face. Jackie opened his mouth wide and he gasped: "Oh-er-um; Ah! Wha-wha-what in the world——?"

Then he tucked his tail between his legs and ran away as fast as he could run.

"My goodness!" laughed Uncle Wiggily, "I wonder what's the matter with Jackie? He must have forgotten to go to the store for his mother and he thought of it just as he got here to ask me to go adventuring with him, I suppose. Ah, puppies will be puppies! And now for the other shoe. The first one is clean and white!"

Uncle Wiggily had almost finished the other shoe when around the corner of the hollow stump bungalow crept Tommie Kat, the pussy boy.

"Oh, Uncle Wiggily!" mewed Tommie. Then his tail fluffed up big and he cried:

"Wow! Wow! Zing! Oh, my goodness!" And away he ran.

"This is strange!" thought the bunny. "Tommie also must have forgotten something. Well, I must finish this shoe," so he kept on whitening it.

Tommie and Jackie ran along the street until they reached the office of Dr. Possum, who cured the sick animals.

"Oh, Dr. Possum!" barked Jackie. "You should go to see Uncle Wiggily at once! He is very sick!"

"Terrible!" mewed Tommie. "He's got the epizootic, or something."

"I'll go right away! I'll take the ambulance with me," said Dr. Possum, "and ride him off to the hospital. You may ride on the ambulance with me, boys!"

So Dr. Possum and the animal boys rode on the cling-clanging ambulance to the hollow stump bungalow. On the way many of the animal friends of Uncle Wiggily saw the ambulance going to his house, so they ran along, following it. With a cling and a clang of the bell the ambulance stopped in front of the rabbit's bungalow.

"Come to the hospital with me at once, Uncle Wiggily!" cried Dr. Possum, when the bunny gentleman had opened the door. "Oh, how dreadfully ill you look!"

"Why, I'm not sick at all! What's the matter with you?" cried Uncle Wiggily. "Why have you the ambulance? Why is the crowd here? Why——"

"You're as white as a sheet!" said Dr. Possum. "You're pale! Even your pink nose is pale, and so are your paws and so are your whiskers! You're pale all over."

Uncle Wiggily looked in the glass. Then he laughed "Ha! Ha! Ho! Ho! Ho!" and he said:

Jackie Bow Wow came around the corner.

"Pale! I'm not pale! That's the white stuff from cleaning Nurse Jane's shoes I guess I did get some on my pink nose!"

"White stuff! Nurse Jane's shoes! Is that all it is?" asked Dr. Possum. And when he looked closer and rubbed some of the white stuff off the bunny he, too, had to laugh.

"Well, he certainly did look sick," said Jackie and Tommie.

"Never mind, boys, you meant it for the best," chuckled Uncle Wiggily, as he finished cleaning his shoes. And it was well he did, for Nurse Jane couldn't wear Mrs. Ringtail's. So everything happened for the best. And if the hair brush doesn't try to go roller skating on the looking glass and spill the talcum powder, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily and the pancakes.

"AMERICA HAS PLAYED BIG PART IN BULGARIA'S PROGRESS," SAYS KING

KING BORIS

"The influence of American schools in Bulgaria upon education, culture and progress of the country, is enormous," says King Boris of Bulgaria in a recent tribute to America's influence in his country.

"It was in the American schools at Constantinople and Samokov that some of Bulgaria's best statesmen obtained their early training. It was an American who was largely instrumental in bringing about the cessation of hostilities in the Balkans not so many years ago. In the early years of their national awakening, it was the sons of America who gave the Bulgarians the Bible in their own tongue. My people have always had an unshakeable confidence in the friendship and goodwill of America, who aided us to enjoy peace, productive labor and moral and cultural progress. I have great admiration for American women and am sure they make excellent wives. They are also very pretty—all those I have seen—and that is so much in itself."

"FARMERS SOLVING OWN PROBLEMS," SAYS STOCK BANK OFFICIAL

President Coolidge's belief that problems confronting the American farmer cannot be cured by legislation at this time are shared by members of Joint Stock Banks, gathered for their fifth annual meeting in Chicago.

"The farmers can and are solving their problems through the regular channels of business," said W. W. Powell of Washington, D. C., secretary of the association.

Sixty-nine joint stock land banks doing business in thirty-six states were represented in the convention.

"These sixty-nine banks have loaned more than $233,000,000 to farmers during the last fiscal year," Mr. Powell said, "and the total loans by all banks in the federal farm loans by all banks in the federal farm loan system is more than $1,000,000,000. More than fifty per cent of the farms in the United States are free of debt. Iowa farmers get more than 10 per cent of all money loaned on farm mortgages by all systems of lending. This amounts to about $500,000,000. The two federal farm loan system—the land banks and co-operative banks—have loaned more than $95,000,000 in Iowa. Illinois is second, with between 6 and 7 per cent of the total.

"Under the joint stock land bank system borrowed from Europe after 150 years' trial and established here in 1916, the farmer gets his money on a term of thirty-three years. He pays a maximum interest rate of 6 per cent plus 1 per cent, which applies on the principal. The money must be used for agricultural purposes or land improvements."

Loans made by the Chicago Joint Stock Land bank of Illinois and Iowa farmers amount to $50,000,000, Mr. Powell said. The First Trust Joint Stock Land bank, affiliated with the First National bank, has $12,000,000 in loans outstanding, he added. Each bank is chartered to do business in its own state and one adjoining state.

Dinner Stories

The very small boy with a penny clutched in his hot and sticky hand entered the toy shop and, standing on tiptoe, inspected the goods displayed therein, according to the Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph. After a long look he did not see anything to satisfy and asked to see some other things.

Nothing seemed to please him, however, and at last the shopkeeper lost his patience and said rather sharply:

"Look here, my lad, do you want to buy the whole world with your penny?"

The prospective purchaser thought deeply for a moment and then replied:

"Let's see it."

"Men are so much more reasonable than women," declared Mr. Grouch during an argument in which he was getting the worst of it.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Grouch, "I have noticed that, especially at a ball game, where a man is always so reasonable that he thinks every time the umpire makes a decision against the home team he is a thief and robber and blind as a bat."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Adventures of Billy Whiskers

By Frances Trego Montgomery

Billy entered the New Zealand village at the exposition and saw the savage looking people.

Just then Billy heard a queer soft pounding noise, accompanied by a weird song, together with the sound of a tin being hit with a muffled club. Looking around, he saw a whole row of these savage looking women dancing to the music, as they called it, on a little narrow platform not more than three feet wide. At the end stood a big, powerful fellow hitting his musical instrument with a little round ball on a string, while each of the ten women and girls had one of the same round balls on a string in her hands, which she swung round her head or twisted in her hands to the time of the music as she danced.

Billy had seen only this much when the guard discovered him and drove him out.

The thing that seemed the queerest of all to Billy was that these seemingly savage creatures could speak English with so pure an accent, and could understand all that was said to them as easily as if they had been born in England. He was wondering how this happened when he overheard a man who had them in charge explain it to one of the sightseers who had inquired about the same thing. He told her to ask one of the women themselves and see what they would tell her. So the lady said:

"Can you speak English?"

"Sure! Why shouldn't we?" was the reply. "We are English subjects and have English schools the same as you have."

"Yes, but you look quite savage," replied the lady, before she thought what she was saying, and, being embarrassed at the remark, she hurried away. The savage woman only laughed, for she was used to being considered a savage and having questions put to her.

When Billy found himself again in the Zone outside the village he wondered where next he should look for Nannie, as none of the exhibits in sight seemed likely to tempt her to enter, so he walked along until he came to a sign that read:

JAPAN, THE BEAUTIFUL

This was built to represent a village in Japan, with streets and houses and stores just as they are in that country. Billy walked boldly down the middle of the prim street, looking in the windows at the things on display there.

(Do you suppose he found Nannie in the Japanese booth?)

On motion the city clerk is instructed to correspond with officials of small cities in Southern California notifying them that the city of Glendale has for sale one road roller, $200.

A reception will be held this evening by the Brotherhood of the First Methodist church honoring Rev. and Mrs. J. F. Humphrey, who will leave soon for another location.

Mr. and Mrs. Morand's school for refined and graceful dancing will reopen October 1 at the K. P. hall.

Glendale the city of homes, which including Casa Verdugo, has developed into a city of groceries, has just one more than an even score of groceries to be found within the limits of these communities. These twenty-one groceries are giving employment to over sixty people. A number of the stores have their own auto deliveries and three have their own meat markets.

POEMS That LIVE

THE OLD STOIC

Riches I hold in light esteem,
And love I laugh to scorn;
And lust of fame was but a dream,
That vanished with the morn;

And if I pray, the only prayer
That moves my lips for me
Is, "Leave the heart that now I bear,
And give me liberty!"

Yes, as my swift days near their goal,
'Tis all that I implore;
In life and death a chainless soul
With courage to endure.

Conspiracy to Change U. S. Rule Is Charged

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 3.—Charging William J. Simmons, imperial wizard of Atlanta, Ga., and three million members of the invisible empire whose names are "unknown to the plaintiffs," with conspiracy to supplant the United States government, the opening wedge in a legal battle of far-reaching scope was driven in a suit filed here yesterday asking an injunction against the use of names of non-members in its rolls and a receiver for the membership lists of Indiana "klaverns."

The names of six South Bend, Ind., men appeared as plaintiffs in the suit filed by Joseph R. Roach and Patrick H. O'Donnell, attorneys, identified with the American Unity League, an organization opposing the Ku Klux Klan.

The alleged oath which a member of the Klan takes, it was charged, defeats the "purpose of petit and grand jury" investigations and constitutes a violation of the criminal code, it was averred.

DR. C. L. MARLENEE

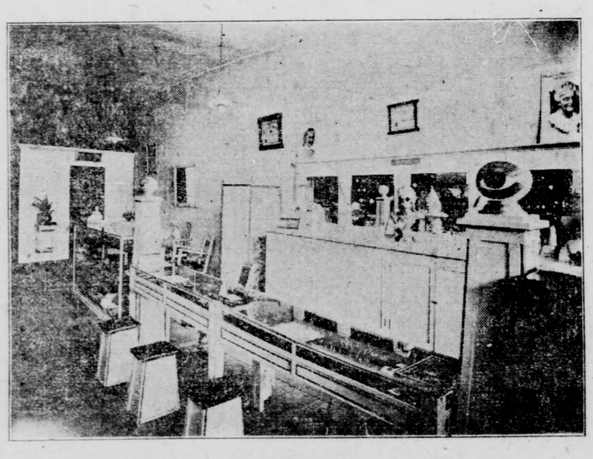
MOVED on October 1st to 116 East Broadway, Glendale

Now Occupies West Half of Walker's Jewelry Store, Four Doors East of Former Location

DR. C. L. MARLENEE, one of the best known optometrists in Southern California, property owner here and identified with the business life of Glendale for more than five years, on October 1st moved to 116 East Broadway, occupying the west half of Walker's Jewelry Store, four doors east of his former location.

Dr. Marlenee, who came to Glendale on the United States exemption board from San Bernardino, where he was local examiner for the Santa Fe for a number of years, gives some interesting views on optometry and service.

To take a piece of glass about a quarter of an inch thick, two inches long and one and one-half inches wide, from it fashion a lens that will bring relief to a sufferer from defective eyesight, is truly an art.



Adjusting and Reception Rooms

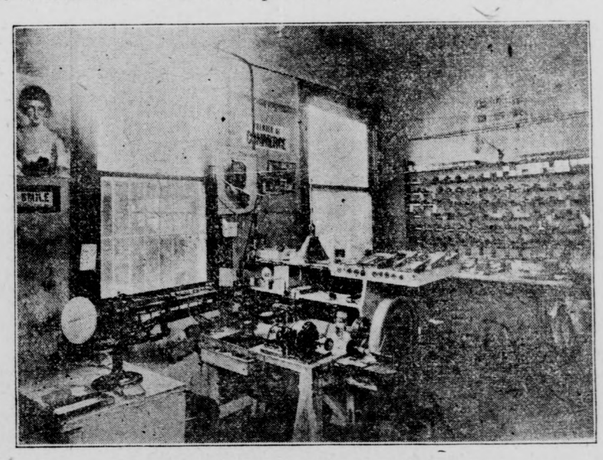
We all remember the days, not so very long ago, when jewelers, general stores and the "house-to-house" peddler carried an assortment of "Spectacles." Those were the days when we walked up to the tray of glasses and tried them on, one after another, until we found six or seven pairs that made us "see better." Finally we worked our selection down to two or three pairs, until, in sheer desperation, we picked on one, very often to find that the relief we sought was of short duration.

Today it is far different. Modern science, when practiced by a man who thoroughly understands it, and who has at his command the best developed instruments for accurate examination of the eyes, has given us sure and permanent relief for our vision defects. Taking advantage of all that science has to offer, Dr. Marlenee, at 116 East Broadway, has one of the best equipped optometry establishments in this part of the state. In fact, his is the only complete lens grinding and polishing plant between Los Angeles and Bakersfield.

Dr. Marlenee's New Location, 116 East Broadway

Coming to Glendale five years ago, Dr. Marlenee won favor and a steadily increasing patronage through his competent, skillful and painstaking service to all who seek relief from eye troubles. Speaking of this rapid growth, Dr. Marlenee states: "I have always been a firm believer in the old saying, 'You get what you give.' This has always been my motto, and, in applying it to my business, I have shortened it somewhat, 'Give to Get.' By this I mean that, in order to establish a desirable business, a man must give real service. It is not enough that he furnish glasses to patrons—this only goes half way; he must furnish glasses that give the greatest possible relief without a chance of injury; he must keep in touch with his patient for at least a year after a fitting and make any correction that may arise in that time."

This is not idle talk, because Dr. Marlenee's statements are borne out by facts. His testing rooms are fitted with the best developed modern appliances for detecting eye troubles. So fine has science drawn the line that it is possible to locate the trouble and prescribe the proper lens by the use of instruments alone. This is especially advantageous to children, as they are apt to become confused and, therefore, not capable of knowing just what lens fits them best. In speaking of his lens grinding and polishing plant, Dr. Marlenee says that he can give better service by grinding his own lenses, faster service in delivering the finished product, and better results in achieving just exactly the right lens.



Lens Grinding and Surfacing Laboratory

He retained his interests in San Bernardino for a time, but sold them recently, owing to the press of affairs here. Well known all over this section, Dr. Marlenee has patients who come to him from Los Angeles, Hollywood, Pasadena and San Bernardino almost every day.

"Taking the matter as a whole," continued Dr. Marlenee, "superior service and reliable goods cannot lie. Sooner or later their true character will develop in satisfaction to the patient."

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

THE THYROID GLAND, No. II

This week we are reviewing a little bit about the thymus and thyroid glands, for, as I have told you, the articles that I wrote on these subjects created such great interest and some of you seemed to confuse the thymus with the thyroid gland. The article on the thymus gland appeared last Monday. If you missed it and are interested, you must get that issue of the paper.

I have told you that when the thymus—a gland in the chest—is enlarged or persists longer than it should, the condition is known as status lymphaticus. The cause of the condition is not known, but the treatment for it is the X-ray.

The thyroid gland—a gland in the front part of the neck—when enlarged is known as a goiter. The simple goiters are due to a deficiency of iodine in the thyroid, and the enlargement of the gland is an effort of Nature to make up this deficiency. It is a futile effort, however; unless sufficient iodine is taken in the foods, in the water supply, or medicinally, the gland cannot produce it of itself.

Occasionally there is a congenital (existing at birth) absence or underdevelopment of the thyroid gland. This will produce a stunting of the growth and dwarfism, both mentally and physically. Babies and children so afflicted are known as cretins. When the gland does not function in adults the condition is known as myxedema. The person so affected becomes mentally apathetic, stupid and very fat.

These cases are the ones I refer to when I tell you sometimes in my articles on attaining normal weight that one fat person out of a thousand needs medication in order to reduce. The cretins and myxedametous adults have to be treated with thyroid extract all of their lives. This, of course, must be done under the supervision of a scientifically trained physician, and the results are marvelous when it is done.

Now we will go back to the simple goiter—which you must not confuse with this hypo-thyroidism (hypo means "under," too little) which I have just been describing. In simple goiter, while there is a hypo-thyroidism—that is, a condition of too little secretion—there are apparently no other symptoms. The condition is due to an iodine deficiency, and supplying this iodine deficiency will prevent and cure in many cases. I told you about that in yesterday's paper.

But in exopthalmic goiter, instead of there being a hypo-thyroidism or under-secretion from the thyroid, there is a hyper or over-secretion. This as markedly disturbs the system as the under-secretion does in the cases of myxedemas and cretins, but in an entirely different way.

Not only is there an enlargement of the gland (sometimes the gland may enlarge downward and inward so that there is apparently no enlargement because it does not show), but accompanying this there is extreme emaciation (thinness), very rapid heart beat and therefore rapid pulse, tremors of the hands, extreme nervousness and more or less bulging of the eyes. It is on account of this bulginig of the eyes that the disease is known as exopthalmic goiter—ex- meaning "out" and opthalmic, "pertaining to the eye."

Many times in cases of exopthalmic goiter the thyroid gland has to be removed surgically to lessen the supply of the secretion. Other therapeutic (curative) measures are usually tried before surgery is resorted to, and sometimes with good results.

Tomorrow I will tell you about the diet requirements in cases of thyroid disturbance.

Tomorrow—The Thyroid Gland, No. III.

IMPORTANT!

Readers of this column are very many and very interested. They write many inquiries, which Dr. Peters is eager to have and very glad to answer when possible. But more and more they neglect to self-address envelopes for the reply.

Now, owing to the great number of inquiries received, we are sorry that it is no longer possible to make reply unless the simple rules of the column are observed. Hereafter if you expect a reply you must enclose a stamped envelope, fully addressed to yourself, with your inquiry. Otherwise your letter will have to be destroyed and the postage (if sent) will be given to charity.—The Editor.

FROCKS FOR AUTUMN WEAR

Paris sponsors black for early Autumn wear, featuring heavy satin and satin-surfaced materials for semi-dressy frocks. To the left is a crepe-back satin trimmed with finely checked black-and-white silk. The closing is at the left side, and panel plaits in self-material give a charming touch of decoration without destroying the effect of simplicity. Medium size requires 4½ yards 36-inch satin.

Dark navy blue satin is used for the second model, which may be trimmed either with lace or figured silk, according to the purposes for which the dress is intended. The girdle is laid in small plaits and finished at the back under a fancy buckle. It may have sash-ends, however. The drapery at the left side falls below the hem of the skirt, fulfilling the function of truly Parisian draperies. Medium size requires 3½ yards 36-inch satin and 1 yard figured material.

First Model—Pictorial Review Dress No. 1598. Sizes, 34 to 50 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Second Model—Dress No. 1606. Sizes, 34 to 48 inches bust, and 16 to 20 years. Price, 35 cents.

Beauty Chats

By Edna Kent Forbes

WEEK-END TREATMENTS

The busy girl has so little time to spend on beautifying herself, that I'd suggest a once a week treatment for her, to be given Saturday night or Sunday, or anytime during that blessed break between one week's work and another. A great deal can be accomplished by a thorough weekly beauty treatment.

Assuming she is normally healthy, and doesn't abuse her complexion by overeating during the week, let her try the following schedule:

Once in three weeks, a shampoo with liquid castile soap, preceded by an oil rub the night before if she has dandruff or dry hair. Once a week a thorough massage of the scalp with some good hair tonic, this to be done whether her hair is healthy or not.

A thorough massage with cleansing cream of face, neck, elbows and hands, followed by a hot and cold water wash to remove the cream. If there are wrinkles, massage with wrinkle cream finished by an astringent. I have an idea that every complexion, particularly that of the city dweller, needs a little extra cleansing at least once a week, and cream is more cleansing than soap and water, though it is never a sutbstitute for it.

A good manicure, making the nails just a little too short, to allow for growth during the week days of neglect.

A good pedicure, nails being cut straight across, corns, either formed or on the way, soaked loose and shaved off or otherwise removed, followed by a massage of the feet and ankles (awfully restful, this, and worth the time it takes.)

Special complaints may call for special treatments. Pimples, blackheads, and such things need laxatives and lotions to clear the skin. But if there are real troubles treatments should be given daily.

Anxious: — Walnut coloring for grey hair is made by steeping the nuts or the hulls until all the coloring is extracted. To do this, take a pound of domestic walnuts, cover with water and steep over a slow fire until there is about one pint of the liquid; add a small handful of salt to set the color. Apply to hair with a toothbrush, so as to avoid staining the skin. As this is not a dye it will wear off, but the color can be kept up through repeated applications, and the advantage of

Try these when you have leisure, using a harmless stain on the hair is worth this extra trouble.

Ruth:—There is nothing to keep you from this tendency to warts, but you can hasten their departure if you rub some oil into them occasionally.

Tomorrow: — Things Worth Knowing

All inquiries addressed to Miss Forbes in care of the "Beauty Chats" department will be answered in these columns in their turn. This requires considerable time, however, owing to the great number received. So, if a personal or quicker reply is desired, a stamped envelope must be enclosed with the question.—The Editor.

JUST HOW TO MAKE WHOLEWHEAT DUMPLINGS

TOMORROW'S MENU

Breakfast

Dinner
Brown Meat Stew wih
Wholewheat Dumplings

A meat stew is not as delicious as it might be unless accompanied by dumplings. This is "just how" I make my dumplings:

To Make Six Wholewheat Dumplings: (If desired, white flour may be used in place of the wholewheat flour called for in this recipe.) Measure out a level cup of wholewheat flour and put it in a medium size mixing bowl with two rounded teaspoons of baking powder and a generous pinch of salt. Mix well, then, with the finger tips, rub in one level tablespoon of butter. Now add one-third of a cup of thin milk (that is, milk diluted with a little cold water) and stir so as to form a stiff paste. The wholewheat flour is more "crumbly" than white flour and will not hold together in a mass quite as well. Turn this mixture out onto a floured board (use white flour on the board) and pat down to three-quarters of an inch in thickness. Do not use a rolling pin. When you have a flat sheet of uniform height take a biscuit cutter which measures three inches in diameter and cut out six discs. Place these discs in a colander.

A generation ago housewives placed their uncooked dumplings right in the stew liquid itself, but the domestc scence schools of today advise using this colander method. The colander which I use measures nine and one-half inches across the top, six inches across the bottom, and has sides measuring about three inches high. I sink it into a large agateware saucepan (it must fit it snugly) which is deep enough to permit one quart of liquid to boil in its bottom without touching the bottom of the colander. The dumplings in the colander are cooked by the steam from this boiling liquid beneath them.

Of course, my six dumpling discs will not all lie flat in the bottom of my colander; only three of them lie flat, and the remaining three are tipped against the sides of the colander (it does not matter that they touch the flat-lying discs slightly). Also it does not matter whether the boiling liquid in the bottom of the pot is clear water or the stew itself. Many housewives cook their stew in one pot, and then steam their dumplings, in this way, in another pot entirely, over clear boiling water.

You must keep the pot as tightly covered as possible. It will take twelve minutes to steam the dumplings thoroughly. If your pot cover will not fit on closely when the colander is in the pot, wrap a clean dish towel around the crack. Wholewheat dumplings do not rise quite as much as the white flour ones, but they are delicious and much more nutritious.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: My parents are dead and I am all alone. I have been going with a young man whom I dearly love. He has done everything in his power for me and now the time has come when he has asked me to become his wife. I love him enough so that I know we could be more than happy, but I would rather wait a year or so, as I am not yet nineteen years of age and have a good paying position.

My fiance has a chance of going into business with a partner in another town. It is a wonderful chance and I know he would make good, but he will not leave town without me. I have no one but him to go to for company and he knows I would die of lonesomeness. I hate to deprive him of his good offer, but I am afraid I am not quite old enough to take the responsibilities as a wife although I have had a great deal of experience. All my life I have had to work doing housework until lately when I finished school. Now I have a responsible position.

Every one that I have talked to has told me that married life is just a drudgery and that I had better enjoy young life while I can. But I certainly intend to marry this man in the end, and I think it would be much better now where he has a chance to make good as he might not get such an offer again.

TROUBLED BETTY.

It seems to me the sensible way out of your difficulty would be for your fiance to grasp his opportunity and leave you temporarily. The time would pass quickly and with correspondence and preparation for the future both of you could be contented for a while. Of course it is unfortunate that he is the only one you have to turn to for companionship, but that is partly your own fault, and if you look around for friends you can make them easily.

It does not seem to me fair that you should stand in the way of progress for the man you love, but on the other hand he should be reasonable and go without you while he gets his start. Although you are young, it hardly seems to me that is sufficient reason for you to postpone marriage. The real question is whether you are honest with yourself and love the man as much as you say you do.

Do not let sordid people spoil your ideals in regard to marriage. Married life is not drudgery for the wife who loves her tasks and manages intelligently. If you love the man you marry sufficiently you will be far happier in your own home than at your present work.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl seventeen years old. I used to have a friend one year older than I am who was in the same year at high school. This girl left school and was married, and it was said she had to be married. I did not see her after that until two evenings ago. She and her husband drove up to our house to see me and they brought along pictures of their baby. I was very much embarrassed, but I tried to treat them as well as I could. This girl said she was coming again and the next time would bring her little girl. I wish she wouldn't come, but I told her an untruth and said I would like to have her.

What would you advise me to do? If she is the kind of girl people say she is, she needn't think she can be a friend of mine again. ELEANOR.

Don't be un-Christian in your attitude toward your former friend. If you no longer feel an interest in her, it is not necessary to seek her companionship, but if she comes to your home, I would advise you to be hospitable and pleasant toward her people who pretend to be Christians should not turn against a girl because she has made a mistake. They should help her and encourage her in every possible way.

With the Women of Today

By MRS. LILIAN CAMPBELL

Miss Marguerite H. Gosse of Reno, Nev., a member of the legislature of her state, was instrumental in putting through a bill providing for the registration of nurses. It had been fought through six sessions of the legislature.

Miss Gosse is, as she says, a "native sage brusher," having been born in Virginia City, Nev., moving to Reno with her parents when she was six years old. With the exception of two years' post graduate work at the Westlake School for Girls in Los Angeles, Calif., her entire education has been obtained in her native state.

"I have always been interested in public affairs," she says, "and have done the things one has the opportunity to do in a small town. In wartime Red Cross work, of course." After the war she was connected with the Y. W. C. A. in Sacramento, Calif. Later she helped in her father's hotel in Reno until it was destroyed by fire.

INFANT MORTALITY

Results of an extensive investigation into infant mortality and its causes in Baltimore have just been made public by the Department of Labor through the Children's Bureau.

Poverty, employment of mothers outside the home, housing below the proper standard, short intervals between births, and the death of mothers at or soon after childbirth were among the conditions causing high death rates among certain groups of babies under one year of age.

Breast-fed babies in every group of the population had lower mortality than artificially fed babies in the same group. In the poorest families studied, about one baby in six died within the year; in the most prosperous families about one baby in twenty-six died within the year.

Employment of the mother away from home during the period of approaching motherhood, chiefly in factory work, was accompanied by a high percentage of premature births and high infant mortality. Employment of mothers away from home during the first year of their babies' lives also markedly increased the hazard to the baby. Room congestion and lack of sanitary equipment in the house were accompanied by death rates above the average.

First-born babies had a mortality slightly higher than second or third babies.

VARSITY ELEVEN PLAYS PASADENA

Glendale Team Reveals Real Strength in Gruelling Practice Game

By NEAL E. SOOY,
Written for The Evening News

Glendale Union High school's varsity football team proved beyond a doubt that they have the real stuff in them when they successfully held their own against the hard playing Pasadena eleven yesterday. Although there was no real game, the scrimmage practice brought out the weaknesses and the fight of the locals.

The Dynamiters have an absolute stonewall line, when it comes to stopping the bucks of their opponents. For twenty straight downs, the Red and Black aggregation held the Bulldogs in practically the same spot, and it was not until Coach Hayhurst began putting in subs that any noticeable gains were made. The two tackles, Hibbs and Dotson, were the outstanding players on the line. There is some question as to Hibbs' eligibility and if he will not be allowed to play, it will take away one of the line's strongest points.

Backfield Stars

The entire backfield played a stellar game and even the Pasadena rooters admitted that Glendale had a wonderful quartet of backs. Howard Elliott's kicking and passing, Bud Elliott's generalship and slippery running, Ronny West's hard running and tackling, and Dick Ryan's line bucking form a combination that will be found hard to beat.

The Class C football team rather upset the dope when they forced the experienced and practiced Pasadena fleaweights to use all their power in order to keep the locals from walking over them. As the 110 pounders have had hardly any practice so far, this looks extremely well for them. Coach Wolfe is very confident that this newly organized team will not prove to be merely a practicing dummy for other elevens. He is sure that the babes will be able to stand up with the best and give a good account of themselves.

Babe Ruth May Replace Wally Pipp at First Base

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Babe Ruth, who may be called in from the outfield to replace the injured Wally Pipp at first base in the world series, is himself a victim of injuries, it developed today. The Babe is said to be limping badly as the result of a twisted ankle and may play only an inning or so in the exhibition game between the New York Giants and the Baltimore Orioles at the Polo Grounds this afternoon.

Ruth is scheduled to appear in the Giant outfield as an added attraction for the game, which is a benefit affair. The beneficiaries will be John B. Day and Jim Mutrie, president and manager, respectively, of the Giants in the old days.

Papyrus Practicing for $100,000 Event

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Papyrus, English champion colt, engaged in another exercise gallop at Belmont park early today in preparation for his $100,000 meeting with the American champion on October 20. Accompanied by Bar Gold, his stable companion, Papyrus breezed six furlongs over the exercise track and after taking a brief rest, repeated the performance.

His trainer, Basil Jarvis, declared that he would not send the colt out on the regular track until he was ready to give him a trial over a distance. This probably will occur early next week.

Lightweights Shine in Practice Contest

Coach Howard Butterfield's Glendale high school lightweight football squad demonstrated before a crowd of rooters and supporters on the local field yesterday that they are "the goods" by trampling over the Pasadena high school Midgets. The contest was only a practice afair and no score was kept, although it's a safe estimate that the Black and Red machine rolled up at least thirty-five points against their opponents from the Crown City.

La Verne Eleven to Play Oxy Peagreens

The Oxy peagreeners will tangle in a football game Friday afternoon on Paterson field with the La Verne eleven. The Short Crucible

By Davis J. Walsh
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 3.—Luis Firpo, the angelic piano mover, had no intention of renouncing his Argentine citizenship when he took out his first papers in the naturalization bureau here several days ago. The action was merely a graceful gesture of appreciation for the kindness shown him here in America. The matter, however, was to end abruptly at that point. He will not take out his final papers, four and one-half years hence.

The Latin made this clear to the writer, by means of an armwaving interpreter today.

"I thought I would demonstrate my gratitude to the American public for the great reception it gave me in defeat," Firpo declared.

"I made up my mind to do something when they named a gun for me during a recent military ceremony at Fort Hamilton. The taking out of first papers was suggested to me and I followed the suggestion. But renounce my Argentine citizenship? No! I am too proud of it.

"The whole story is this: I didn't want the American public to regard me as a man who takes eevrything and gives nothing."

Far from marooning his compatriots, Firpo intends to return to the Argentine "as soon as possible and stay as long as possible." He even contemplates staking the young men down there to a thrill, or so, by meeting Ermiio Spalla, heavyweight champion of Italy, in a bout to a decision.

All of his plans are indefinite, however. He does not know when, if ever, the Spalla affair will take place nor how long he will remain before returning to America, seeking to conquer further jaws and customers. The worthy Mr. Rickard will have no hand in the promotion of the Spalla bout, he added.

"I can't tell when I leave nor how long I will stay away," Firpo said. "All of that will be determined by what arrangements I can make before I sail for another fight with Dempsey. We are working on that now and I will not be satisfied until I have definite assurance that I will meet your champion within a year. I think I will do better the next time.

"I am not doing any training at all, right now. I hurt my left arm in the Dempsey fight and until it heals I can't take up boxing again. The injury is not serious."

Firpo has abandoned his uptown apartment and is now ensconced in a flat that overlooks Broadway in the busiest section of the theatrical district. He is said to be stepping out a bit with the strain of training removed and finds his new quarters more in keeping with the role of a man about town.

Fore! Alexa Stirling vs. Miriam Burns Today

By ROBERT E. HARLOW
For International News Service

RYE, N. Y., Oct. 3.—Real action was expected as the field of golfers began the second round of the women's national championship at the West Chester-Biltmore country club today at least two of the matches involving stars of national note.

In the first of these Miss Alexa Stirling, medalist for the tournament and former champion, met Miss Miriam Burns, the youthful sensation from Kansas City, who recently won the western championship. In another, Mrs. R. H. Barlow, the veteran Philadelphian, faced Mrs. Melvin Jones of Chicago, another western leader.

Both matches were in the upper half of the draw.

TAGGING THE BASES

Burns, a recruit, pitched the Athletics into sixth place and the Senators into knots by turning in a 6 to 1 victory for his American league debut.

The Tigers edged along to within a single point of second place by gaining a rolling fall over the White Sox, 7 to 5.

Grimes turned in his twenty-first victory of the season as the Dodgers beat the Braves, 5 to 2.

A six-run rally in the eighth gave the Browns a 10 to 5 victory over the Indians.

Ten Persons Injured In Street Car Wreck

DENVER, Oct. 3.—Ten persons were injured yesterday afternoon when the brakes on a Denver tramway car failed to work and the car sped down hill at a rate of fifty miles an hour, turning completely over. The accident occurred in North Denver. The injured, three of them women, were rushed to a hospital, where it was said they would all recover.

Von Kahr Appointed Premier of Barvaria

MUNICH, Oct. 3.—Premier Vor. Knilling resigned yesterday as head of the Bavarian government. Dictator Von Kahr was chosen to succeed him.

Von Kahr was appointed Bavarian dictator last week by Dr. Von Knilling as a concession, it was reported, to the popular resentment against his own support of the Berlin government in abandoning passive resistance.

Von Kahr, a former premier of Bavaria, during his term of office, was the bane of the Central government of Germany.

During his term as dictator however, Von Kahr surprised followers of his career by co-operating with the German government and repeatedly has declared he has no intention of heading a separatist or a monarchist movement.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3.—Negotiations are being conducted by the United States shipping board and the Harriman interests of New York for the sale of the Leviathan and other ships of the board, Edward P. Farley, chairman, declared.

The negotiations, however, Farley said, have not reached a definite stage and no specific offer with financial guarantees to continue uninterrupted service has been made.

Mexico and Venezuela Break Off Relations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 3. — The state department late yesterday received official confirmation of the breaking off of diplomatic relations between Mexico and Venezuela.

The immediate cause of the break was based on the refusal of Venezuelan officials to allow a Mexican opera company to enter the country.

Radical Leader Shuns Labor Convention

PORTLAND, Ore. Oct. 2.—William Zane Foster, radical leader, will not be here during the American Federation of Labor convention, according to an announcement by department of justice agents today.

William Dunne, said to be the former editor of the Butte Bulletin, will fill Foster's engagements, federal agents stated. Twenty-one communists and radicals are in Portland, federal officers have been informed, and are believed to be meeting secretly to further their endeavors in the labor movement.

The Letter That Fired Ambition

"Dear Old Jim," she wrote. "No, I'm not going to marry—not yet. It isn't that I don't love you, Jim. But I am wondering how soon you would tire of seeing me across the breakfast table if my time was devoted to pots and pans. It doesn't take long for time to etch his crows' feet around a blond's mouth and eyes, especially when worries come. And worries there would be, Jim, financial ones, that try the love and souls of men and women who marry with nothing saved up. Oh, if you would prove your ability to deny yourself! Save something for us to start on, just to prove that you have within you the seed of success."

I read the letter on thru to the end. Was she right? Of course! She was always right. It hurt to admit it. But in her home she had everything that a doting father could give. With me—why, I had nothing—was spending all I made.

Necessity is the most effective spur ambition ever had. I had heard that the first thousand dollars is the hardest. I determined to save. I figured my expenses—allowed myself so much for clothes, board, amusement, advancement. But a good part of each month's pay I saved. At first it was difficult. Soon it fascinated me. I would prove my self-denial.

Thus time went on until one day my bank book showed $1000 to my credit—my capital. And that very night I went to see her. Without words I pressed into her hands my bank book. She held it up—opened it. Then delight transfigured her face. The rest of it is none of your business. There's a cozy little apartment I've just rented and she's rushing to the stationers to get her newly engraved visiting cards.

We never realize the need of money until we lack it. Most financial worries come after marriage rather than before. But this much is certain. Freedom from debt makes life happier. Possessing money brings opportunities which never present themselves to those who say: "There's nothinig to saving."

The Glendale Evening News classified ads set a new record for the year ending with September, a record that proves beyond all question that in these columns people find the best results. During the twelve months The Glendale Evening News published

1,330,742 Lines Of Classified Advertising 1,330,742

And, incidentally, The Glendale Evening News carried 43 per cent more classified advertising during September than any other local publication.

These record-breaking figures prove—and thoroughly so—that The Glendale Evening News has a complete distribution in Glendale and vicinity. They prove, too, that these columns do a double service—they serve both buyer and seller.

Commerce stenographer, was amended to provide for desk room free of rent until the first of next January, Community Service providing its own clerical help.

Representatives of the Rogers Una-Drive Motor Truck Corporation were present, together with A. L. Baird, chairman of the industrial committee, to urge a more active support by the Chamber of Commerce in the establishment of their plant in Glendale. A Chamber of Commerce committee of five members will confer with the officials of the corporation and will report to the organization as to what course should be adopted.

Community Chest

Vice-President W. E. Hewitt, who presided in the absence of President Jesse E. Smith, reported on the plans for the Community Chest organization meeting that is to be held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms tomorrow, Thursday, night at 7:30 o'clock, and urged that all the directors of the Chamber of Commerce be present at the meeting.

A letter from H. L. Leavitt, who promoted the Merchants' Industrial Exposition of last spring, proposing that the affair be repeated in May, 1924, was ordered filed.

The approaching election of a new board of directors will be held in conformity with the resolution that was adopted by the board during the recent membership campaign, to the effect that a director who has served two years cannot succeed himself until after the passage of one year. It was pointed out, however, that only the present board is bound by this resolution, as it has not yet been officially adopted as an amendment to the constitution of the organization.

Trotzky Will Refuse Russ Aid to Germany

RIGA, Oct. 3.—Leon Trotzky, commissar for war in the Moscow government, told United States Senator William H. King of Utah that Russia "will not send a single soldier into Germany, no matter what happens there, unless actually forced to take such action," said a despatch from Moscow.

"The soviets are most anxious to avoid intervention in German civil war," Trotzky was quoted as saying. "Russia needs peace for reconstruction."

Senator King was a member of the American senatorial party that visited Russia to investigate conditions.

chairmen. Each one wears a badge bearing her name and office.

Urges Registration

It was during the final luncheon course that Mrs. Urquhart was presented. Mrs. Shenk was also introduced to the club company and in a brief, vivacious message gave as the slogan of her department "Every Club Woman a Registered Voter."

Mrs. McCormack was also called upon by Mrs. Campbell and responded briefly as corresponding secretary of the district.

An informal reception hour filled in the time before the luncheon and afternoon meeting, the club members greeting the club officers, honored guests, curators and chairmen in the lounge room.

Delightful Program

Only ten minutes were devoted to current business in the afternoon and then Mrs. Urquhart again addressed the club members, placing special emphasis on the dominant topic of the California federation, "The Spiritual Force of Understanding." It was with regret that the club bade her "good-bye," but owing to another engagement she was forced to forego the pleasure of remaining for the program.

"Lullabies, Songs and Dances of the Nations," arranged by Mrs. J. H. Ballagh, proved a program of real artistic and musical value and was keenly enjoyed and appreciated by the club women who have anticipated its presentation with interest.

Mrs. Ballagh had associated with her a group of Los Angeles Matinee Musical club and other artists, who gave in costume songs and dances of the nations. The program as printed in The Glendale Evening News last Saturday showed a wealth of talent and included names of artists known and praised throughout Southern California.

The club women and visitors at the clubhouse are enjoying an exhibit of paintings by Kooverji L. Lillani, recently of Bombay, Prof. Lillani was a guest at the luncheon yesterday and was introduced by Mrs. Roy Ballagh, curator of the fine arts section. His pictures will hang in the clubhouse during the month of October.

Mrs. Campbell and the club members were congratulated upon the opening of the new year yesterday with many floral gifts. Mrs. Campbell received two corsage bouquets and a tall basket of dahlias from her board members. The club received a beautiful basket of wonderful dahlia blooms from Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Bryant of the Verdugo Woodland dahlia gardens.

At the luncheon Tuesday, October 16, Richmond P. Hobson, representing the International Narcotic association, and Mrs. C. D. Neil and Mrs. Service, who experienced the recent earthquake disaster in Japan, will be guests and speakers.

Masquerader's Hubby Barred as Witness

CHICAGO, Oct. 3.—A decision like no other in Illinois legal history was handed down here yesterday afternoon when Criminal Court Judge Caverly ruled Frank Carrick could not testify against "Freddie" Thompson, being tried for the murder of Richard C. Tessmer, "because he is the husband of the defendant." Freddie is a man, too, having masqueraded as a woman.

Peddling Platitudes Talk Is Easy for Some Sewers a Practical Issue Decrease in Strikes

By Gil A. Cowan

PEDDLING platitudes is the pastime of public officials at times, particularly if they have nothing to say. Secretary of State Charles E. Hughes was called upon to speak before a national dairymen's conference in Washington yesterday.

Here is a good idea of what he had to say which our scholarly readers will no doubt appreciate:

"Peace is not a final goal, but an opportunity," he declared. "Assurances of peaceful settlements are but the means through which we strive to create conditions in which the standards of human living can be raised and the satisfactions which are within the keeping of peaceful, industrious and intelligent communities can be enjoyed. Peace conferences are valuable because they open the way for this sort of intelligen: working together.

"Your gathering directs attention to one of the most important aspects of international co-operation; that is, the exchange of the results of research, to the bettter understanding of the economics of industry.

"Our different countries are not simply political units, but great laboratories of human experimentation.

"It is in meetings of this sort that may be found clearing houses of expert knowledge, the charting of the ways of progress. We have also in our different commonwealths not only economic experimentation, but experiments in legislation. Here many a lesson may be learned as to the wisest and most efficient sort of regulation."

After all, Secretary Hughes said, public health is the fundamental consideration.

"What a vast amount of time," he concluded, "do we give to the establishment and maintenance of the machinery of government, to the necessary activities of politics, in order that we may have, at the end, a small margin of time and a little opportunity here and there to do something actually worth while in bettering the conditions of life."

It is so easy to talk, if you know how. We know people in Glendale who would rather talk than eat. Personally, we prefer to eat. There are others who like to write. The ink literally flows from their pens in a fluent stream, although some of our most ready writers discover that a typewriter tangles them in thought.

We whang away at the little machine in front of us and write that which is intended to make you think, rather than tell you something you already know. There are many subjects upon which we could cover columns of space. We once wrote twenty columns regarding the ice cream industry.

Which is neither here nor there. But there is a text dear to our hearts today. That is the Glendale sewer. We want to see it accomplished at the earliest possible moment, for a sewerage system is what Glendale needs most. It is a practical issue which must be met.

The Santa Barbara News says, regarding a decrease in the number of strikes:

Figures compiled by the United States department of labor show that, in spite of the unrest and agitation in labor circles, there has been, sincle 1916, a progressive decline in the number of strikes.

In spite of the great railroad strike, with its losses running into the millions, and the suspension of work in the coal mines, which threw a heavy burden on industry in the East and Middle West, the federal reports indicate that conditions have improved.

The number of strikes in 1916 in the entire country was 2667, while in 1922 there were only 829. The number of men involved in the troubles of 1916 reached 1,599,000. Last year 1,600,000 were involved in strikes, but of these fully a million were included in the coal and railroad troubles, leaving only 600,000 in the general industries of the nation and the building trades.

The figures of the department indicate an increasing tendency to reach agreements in disputes which otherwise might lead to strikes.

An interesting feature of the report is the compilation of the results of the various strikes and lockouts which shows that neither the employers nor employes are consistent winners.

During 1921, when the movement for the organization of employers was at its height, the employers were victors in 701 conflicts, while labor won but 256, and 291 were compromised.

But in 1922, employers and employes each won 229 labor contests, while 104 were settled by agreement.

On the whole, the reports of the department of labor would seem to indicate that labor is finding a better and saner method of settling its troubles than by ordering strikes. On the other hand, it would seem that employers are not so prone to lock out their employes as they have been in the past.

Apparently these results are being accomplished by the rule of common sense, rather than by laws.

DR. MARLENEE IN NEW QUARTERS

Local Optometrist Moves to 116 East Broadway; Invites Friends to Call

Dr. C. L. Marlenee, optometrist, well-known resident and property owner of Glendale, and identified with the business life of the community for more than five years, is today located at 116 East Broadway, just four doors east of his former location.

Dr. Marlenee, who has patients coming to him from Los Angeles, Hollywood, Pasadena, San Bernardino, and, of course, from all sections of Glendale and vicinity, extends a personal invitation to all of his friends and patrons to visit his new quarters at 116 East Broadway.

"I came to Glendale on the United States exemption board during the World war," said Dr. Marlenee today," and I became interested in the city and desired to progress with it. I then had my optometrical headquarters at San Bernardino. I opened an office in Glendale and, thanks to Glendale people, my business here grew to such an extent that I sold my San Bernardino business and am devoting all of my attention to Glendale interests.

In New Quarters

"My new quarters at 116 East Broadway, four doors east of my former location, are being made even more complete than those I have just moved out of. I am having the most modern equipment installed, and I am happy to state that I am in a position to give service second to none in the Southland. My service calls for more than just selling glasses. I keep in touch with my patients and make corrections that may be necessary, and, too, use methods that make for 100 per cent results, as my many patients can testify."

Dr. Marlenee has equipment for grinding his own lenses. He has his own polishing plant, and, in brief, is perpared to give complete optometrical service at his new location, 116 East Broadway.

Lack of Buildings Problem for Glendale faith to erect buildings for industrial purposes, but he declared that few classes of investment offer a better return at this stage than industrial property does.

Locates Five Firms

In support of his contention that industries are coming here rapidly he stated that he had located five new firms here last week and could have taken care of several more if he had been able to secure buildings for them.

The advertising committee, Chairman W. L. Twining told the board, is already planning to attract capital here that will aid in the development of the industrial situation, and a committee to be appointed by the Chamber of Commerce, apart from the present industrial committee, will go thoroughly into the matter and endeavor to induce investors to erect buildings for commercial purposes.

Launch War on Dope And Liquor Runners

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 3.—Bootleggers and narcotic peddlers in Santa Barbara county will find the going especially hard from today on as the result of measures discussed and adopted at a meeting held here by residents of Santa Barbara and nearby communities.

Patrol of all highways in this country by volunteer police and a strict watch along the coast line were among the measures suggested to curb the increasing traffic in illicit liquor and drugs.

Smuggling of Chinese to inland and northern points in California with this place as a clearing house and the recent admission by dope peddlers that Santa Barbara was their headquarters led to the organization of the volunteer police who expect to divide the patrol of the highways and ocean inlets into convenient but continuous watches.

Elsewhere in this issue of The Glendale Evening News appears Dr. Marlenee's formal announcement of moving to his new location.

New Fall Wraps at $55

Wraps that Charm the Eye and Figure

The new fall modes reveal wonderfully clever features. Life could never be monotonous to the woman who has one of these stunning wraps to slip into. Lustrous deep fabrics are made up in all shades of browns and blues. Among the effective touches are a Queen Anne's collar, a Peirrot ruche or a two tier roll! The silhouette, though still slim and straight, is broken by large bell sleeves and a large, smart collar to snuggle down deep in on cool evenings. Luxurious coats in sport or dress. The dressiest models are beautifully adorned with rich fur.

A Dressy Hat to Frame a Pretty Face

at only $10 and $15

Of course one must have a dress-up hat for dress-up occasions! It may be wide and droopy or have a side roll, or turn up sharply in front as if it scorned the face. Velvet, duvetynes and felt and combination of these materials make the hats look very stunning. Ribbons, in pleats or bows, feathers, and veils are used to ornament these hats. May we show them to you.

You will be more than pleased with the wonderful selection we are proud to display, in all of the newest shades for all fall wear. Tan, navy, grey, red, black, rust and orange.
